Men Who Shot Crawford Want Part Of Reward

Say He Was With Irene Schroeder And Glenn Dague When Paul Was Killed

DISTRIBUTION OF REWARD NOT MADE

Arguments On Distribution Of Reward Before The Court Next Month

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell received a letter from J. E. Crawford, chief of police of Cape Girardeau, Mo., this morning, in which inquiry is made regarding the reward offered for the murderers of Corporal Brady Paul.

The letter states that on January 3, 1933, two men were killed by the police of Cape Girardeau, one of them being identified by the Department of Justice at Washington as Thomas Robert Crawford.

Crawford is said to have been with Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague when Corporal Brady Paul was killed on the Butler road. He was a brother of Irene Schroeder. The letter goes on to state that the writer understands that a reward amounting to $3,200 was offered for the murderers of Corporal Paul, and that as Crawford was one of the party, the officers who killed him believe that they are entitled to share in the reward.

Reward Never Distributed
Distribution of the reward for the murderers of Paul has never been made. The money has been paid in to Prothonotary Campbell and is being held pending an order of distribution.

All of the claimants have agreed to submit to a decision of the court, and the case will come up for argument before Judges R. L. Hildebrand and James A. Chambers at the coming session of court beginning on the first Monday of July.

Attorneys representing the different claimants will present to the court the part played by each individual in the capture of Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague. This has been detailed in affidavits by the claimants which are on file at the prothonotary's office. It is expected that an early decision will be handed down following the arguments in the case.

Kidnapers Free Wealthy Youth

Son Of Wealthy White Plains, N. Y., Contractor, Kidnaped, Then Freed

NO DEMAND FOR MONEY WAS MADE

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, June 23.—The story of a daring kidnaping of the wealthy son of a White Plains contractor by two men who held him prisoner for two nights and a day until they despaired of collecting a $25,000 ransom, was told by the victim today after he had been thrown out of his abductor's car in East Chester.

The youth, Walter Riegel, 18, son of A. H. Riegel said he was held captive in an apartment in "downtown Manhattan or somewhere on Long Island," after being seized as he was returning by automobile on Wednesday night to his wife in the exclusive Ridgeway section of White Plains.

His abductors, he said, did not know his identity when they kidnaped him, blindfolded and bound him and drove him to their hideaway. At no time did they attempt to communicate with his parents nor ask him to, but finally became convinced through telephone calls they made to others that the present financial condition of the Riegel family precluded the payment of a ransom.

Uncertain Course Is Before Economic Conference At London

STABILIZATION IS PUSHED ASIDE

Attitude Of Gold Standard Nations Is Bitter Against U. S.

(International News Service)
With the currency stabilization issue temporarily shelved by action of the American delegation, the world economic conference struggled along an uncertain course today.

Extreme divergence of views among the various nations represented indicated ever-increasing difficulties, but the United States strove to find a common platform by presenting a resolution calling for cooperative monetary and credit action to speed world recovery.

Meanwhile, nations still on the gold standard frantically sought means of preserving their currency basis despite America's opposition to a stabilization pact at the present time.

Blistering Cross-Examination Follows Testimony By Kenneth Buck

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 23.—Kenneth Buck, confessed kidnaper of 10 year old Peggy McMath, was subjected to a blistering cross-examination today by District Attorney William C. Crossley after the witness had told his own story on the stand. On direct examination, Kenneth, who with his brother, Cyril, is on trial for the kidnaping, testified he had been the tool of a mysterious man named "Bill," a run-ner whom he had met in Hyannis, Mass. He made the startling assertion that "Bill" told him that Peggy's father, Neil C. McMath, "knew all about" the kidnaping plans.

TIMELY FACTS ABOUT BLINDNESS

A SURVEY by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness shows that there are now in schools for the blind 500 children who have lost their sight through accidents due to fireworks, use of air rifles and playing with weapons. The number treated for eye accidents annually ranges between 750 and 1,000, and the number accidentally blinded is 70 a year.

Consideration of these facts is timely. They cannot be expected to impress children who are about to celebrate Independence Day, and to whom craving for noise, suspense and excitement derivable from the detonation of explosives is natural. Children do not calculate risks; generally they are ignorant of dangers until these have been made apparent by personal experience.

But parents are generally aware of the significance of such facts and figures as those cited, which constitute but a part of the Fourth of July accident record. They have played an important part in improving conditions by exercising necessary restraint over thoughtless youth. The warning from those who teach the blind should help in preventing the purchase of this Fourth's pleasure at too dear a cost.

GAINS SHOWN IN PAYROLLS OF THE COUNTRY

Secretary Perkins of the Department of Labor, who has a reputation for conservatism, announces an increase of over four per cent in manufacturing employment and eleven per cent in payrolls during the month of May. This news is based on reports from 17,923 establishments in eighty-nine industries; they show the largest rise over a preceding month since January, 1923. There is no doubt about the correctness of the figures, which tally with the impressions of business men who are in the habit of traveling about the country. There is a healthy spirit of optimism in the air and it is based on more than mere hope.

In this connection General Hugh Johnson, director of the huge public works-industrial control program, gives out figures to indicate that 4,000,000 men will be back at work by October. He figures that 3,000,000 will be taken by industrial establishments and the other 1,000,000 on the public works planned. This is a mighty big claim to make, and there will be many who will wonder on just what premises such a gigantic promise has been made. It is sincerely to be hoped that he is right.

That is something that time alone can tell. But in the meanwhile we can take comfort from the fact that we are not only looking forward, but that we are on the way to the much-talked-about improvement in business.

RESTORATION OF TWO-CENT POSTAGE

It is the little things that count. Announcement that the two-cent local rate on first-class mail is to go into effect on the first of next month will be received with gratification everywhere. There is a strong sentiment in favor of restoring the general two-cent rate, but that will depend upon future conditions. Under recent legislation the president has the power to make other modifications, the only condition being that first-class mail shall not be carried for less than two cents an ounce or any fraction thereof. The increase to three cents was made originally in the expectation that it would be an easy and painless way of reducing the postal deficit, but to the surprise of the officials it had the opposite effect.

A penny is not much, but it was Franklin who said that a penny saved was a penny earned. In a short time the Postoffice Department was confronted by diminishing returns as the result of the increase in postage. Utility companies, municipalities, business concerns and large establishments found they could save money by sending bills and routine communications to their patrons by messengers. A survey made from Washington indicated that "the higher rate of postage had not only affected the volume of postoffice business, but was criticised generally as being a charge in excess of what the traffic could reasonably be expected to bear." The move now being made is with the hope of restoring to the mails the normal volume.

It is important to the government for two reasons. One is the added revenue, and the other is the expectation of providing work for thousands of postal employees who might otherwise have to take further payless vacations.

DEADBEAT NATIONS

There is no longer any doubt about the intention of the debtor nations to get their debts to the United States canceled by hook or crook. Britain's payment of less than a seventh of the amount due removed the last shadow of a doubt as to their ultimate aim.

They don't want to pay, they don't have the money and they know that Uncle Sam is in no position right now to take it out of their hides, so to speak. In more opportune times, economically, France would not have dared default and Great Britain wouldn't have presumed to write her own settlement terms by sending over but a fraction of the sum due.

From the other debtors can now be expected, in view of the recent action of London and the action of France last December, nothing better than partial payments, with more defaults almost certain. The smaller debtors have been waiting for someone to try out the water.

The British chancellor of the exchequer makes it clear that the 10 millions in silver are not an installment on the $75,000,000 due, but part payment of an indeterminate obligation which his government desires determined at some future date and not by the terms of the 1922 agreement.

The American government and people understand the sorry financial straits in which Europe finds itself, but they will lose sympathy if such high-handed methods are persisted in. And Europe still needs an understanding and sympathetic America.

History teaches us that crises in human affairs eventually pass in spite of all great men can do.

But if that was all Mr. Pierpont Morgan had to say, why was it necessary to keep still so long?

The honeymoon is over when she says: "Do you love me, darling?" and he answers, "Sure, Mike."

It is said that truth lies at the bottom of a well. Perhaps that is why the lawyer pumps the witness.

One of our friends who was six years old when the World's Fair was held in Chicago forty years ago says that all he can remember of a three-day visit to the Columbian exposition is that he got his first drink of orangeade there. Such is fame!

HOUSE MOVING

House moving was fun for the kids in our home town.

There wasn't one of them that wouldn't stay away from swimming, fishing, skating or "one-old-cat" to watch a house being moved down the street. We wanted to learn how it was done. Some of us dreamed of being house-movers ourselves some day.

I knew the boy whose father was the chief house mover in our town. His name was Ostrander, and because he was a friend of mine I could ride on the front porch of a house that was rolling slowly down the street, or even climb to the roof as a special favor, and once I even went inside and sat in the parlor and read a magazine while a house was moving. His father didn't care. It's quite a job, moving a house. It takes days before you get it out loose from the foundation and raised high enough so you can put big beams underneath and put the rollers in position. . . . Maybe you remember those rollers, about four feet long and six inches in diameter, made of a hard, tough wood that wouldn't split under the weight of the house.

The house mover had a lot of those rollers and a great load of beams and long spikes and heavy cables and big winch and he had a nice old steady-going white horse. First he'd put the house on the rollers, then he'd hitch up the house to a cable and get the winch in position, and put the old horse between the shafts. He was a dependable old fellow. As I remember it, his name was Jim. He'd start the instant you said "gidap." He'd go round and round and round, unvaryingly, and let nothing disturb him—not even one of those puffing, snorting, new fangled automobiles with a door in the back. And he'd stop immediately when you said "Whoa!" (Once, but only once, I was allowed to start him and stop him all one summer morning. It was a "wonderful experience, and half a dozen kids wanted a turn, but I wouldn't let them. I was selfish.)

It's many a year since I've seen a house moved down a street. Too many telephone wires. Too many power lines. Too much traffic on streets. Houses get torn down these days. It's cheaper to do that than to move them. . . . So the kids in that respect, don't have as much fun as we did. They know to put an automobile together. They can make an airplane or a glider, they can do other wonderful things. But not one in a hundred of them could tell how to move a house. That's a pity.

ENJOY ACCOMPLISHMENT

It is a good trait to have—to desire more than you can procure easily.

To have an incentive makes people work harder and better.

But it is foolish to be unhappy because you cannot enjoy things definitely beyond your reach.

Throughout your life you have missed much happiness because you have been dissatisfied with the results of your labors.

That is just as bad as not to labor.

Enjoy what you have, but do not be overly satisfied with it, because complete satisfaction makes folk lazy.

Set a goal and work for it, and having attained it set another a little higher and so on.

There is more joy in working for an object than there is in accomplishment.

So keep going, each time a little higher, a little better.

Keep the star of hope ahead of you and spend more time following that star than you spend sitting in its starry light.

The secret of a happy life is in doing the utmost toward something better, and enjoying as you go along, but not in lamenting that you can't go faster.

THE GREATEST HAPPINESS

Once lived a man who wished to know the height of happiness. He sought it first from money and he sought it from success. But happy though he was at times with all his labor gained. Somehow he felt unknown to him a greater joy remained.

It puzzled him at times that he with everything he had. Still suffered from heart emptiness and oftentimes was sad; Nor skill nor power which he possessed could drive away the thought.

That somewhere, somehow he had failed to gain the joy he sought.

He longed to find a deeper sense of satisfaction here. Than fortune had bestowed on him. He went from year to year Seeking a pleasure and a pride which he could earn or buy. His reason for existence on this earth to justify.

One morning as he walked the street he heard a stranger say: "I'm hungry, sir! I haven't had a bite of food today."

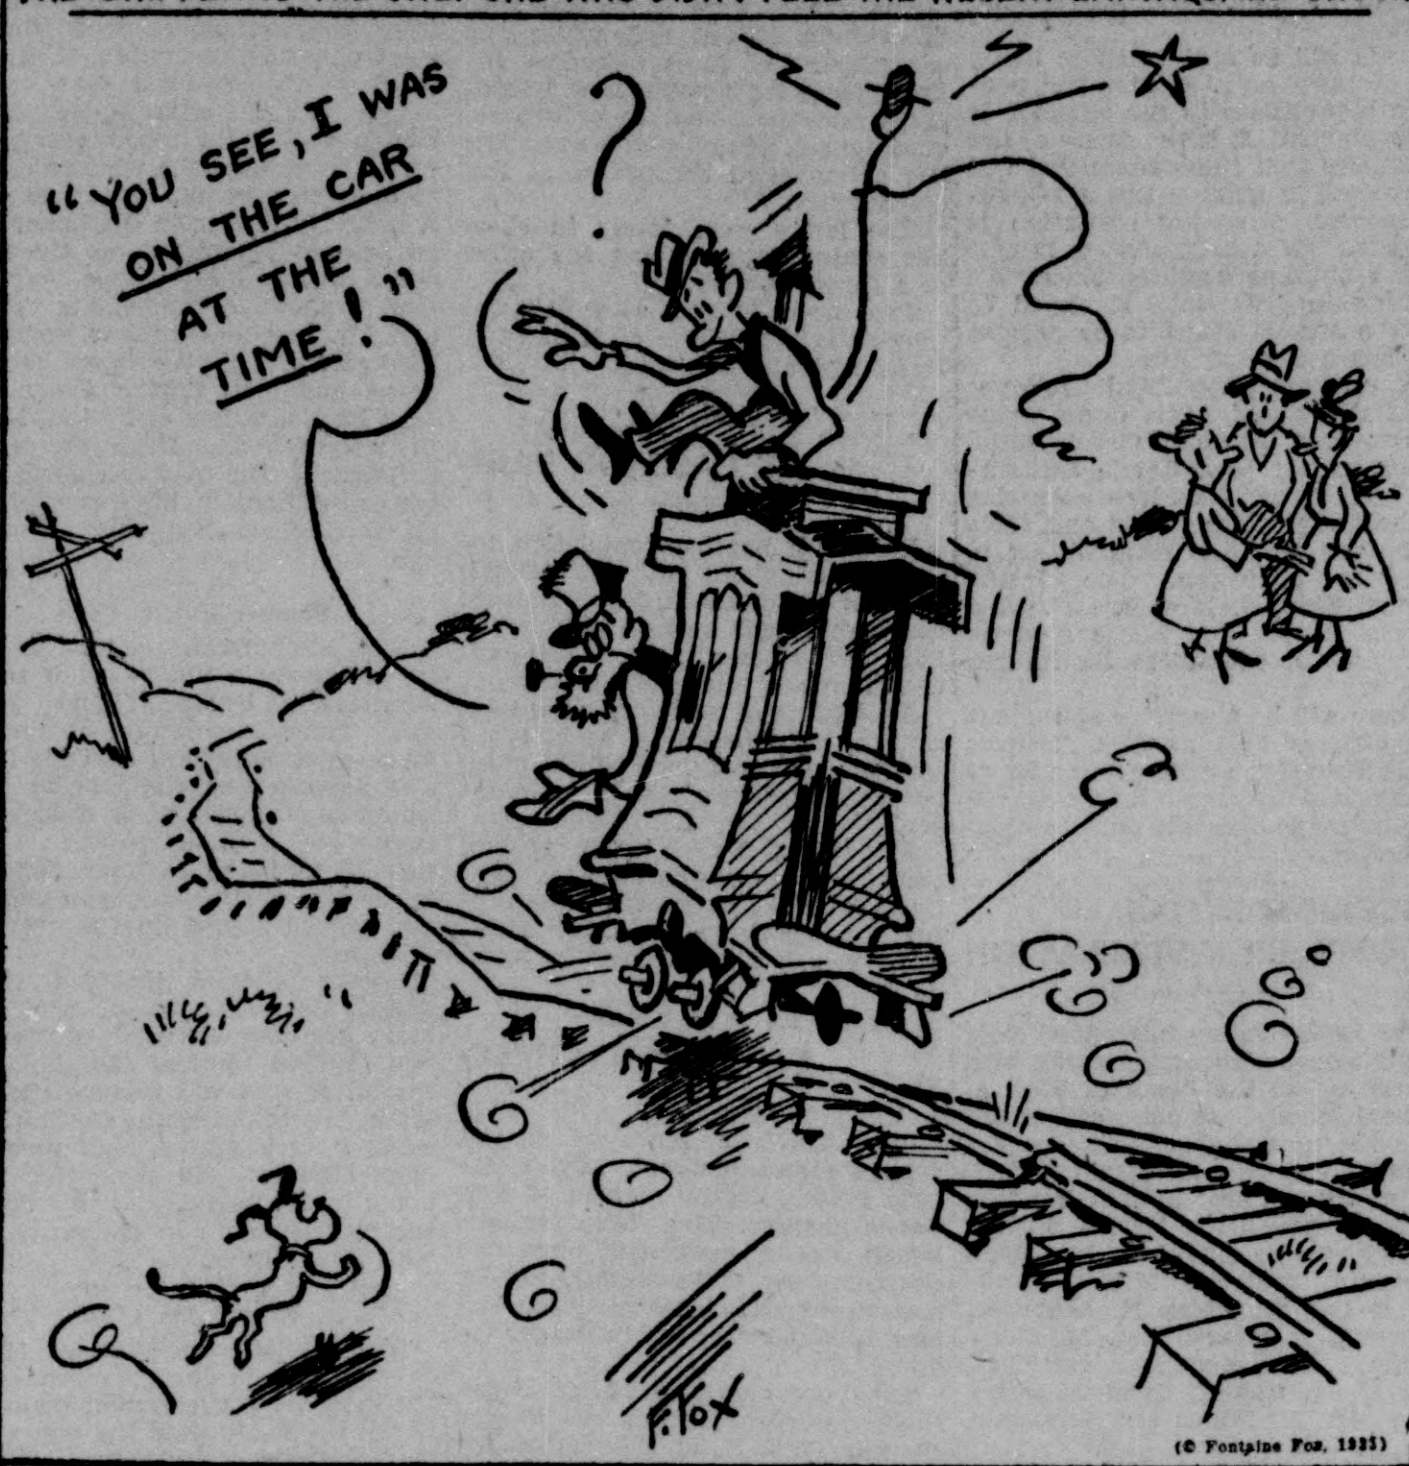

A thousand thoughts he passed in scorn. This time upon the plea. He answered (and 'twas strange he should), "Come on and dine with me."

He watched that hungry stranger gaze with joy upon his plate; He listened to repeated thanks till while the poor man ate. And this he thought as he went: At last I've learned to live! I've found man's greatest happiness! It's not to gain, but give!

He foresaw the day when ignorance and disease would be eliminated, and economic independence would become the common law of every man. Science and art would flourish, and every day would be a holiday.

The devil overheard the boast. "Don't be too sure," said the devil. "You forget that I, too, am evolving."

Synopsis of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

MacDonald Debt Statement Inspires Varying Comments

Critics Of British Premier Object To Introduction Of Highly Controversial Subject At Opening Of World Economic Conference

Many Americans believe that poor judgment was shown by Premier MacDonald of Great Britain in declaring at the opening of the World Economic Conference that the debt question must be dealt with "before every obstacle to general recovery has been removed, and it must be taken up without delay by the nations concerned." Some critics see no reason for discussion of the subject at this time, but others, while differing as to the wisdom and timeliness of the British statement, agree that debt settlement must come before other matters can be settled.

"A more tactful procedure," thinks the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "would doubtless have been for the Prime Minister to mention the debts as a factor for eventual consideration, but not as an essential to adjustments at the present meeting." The Star feels that if Mr. MacDonald's statement is correct, "the London conference must be regarded as a failure before it is even fairly started." That paper also voices the conviction that the people of the United States "are now disposed to forgive these obligations as a whole or even in large part."

"For the time being, at least," says the LINCOLN STATE JOURNAL, "the British acknowledge owing the debt. The Democratic platform, on which the President and Democratic Congressmen were elected, opposed cancellation. There isn't a word in the platform opposing the debt of foreign debt by agreement. A debt conference will follow, possibly soon after the ending of the economic conference." The CLEVELAND NEWS comments: "Perhaps the debts can be discussed at one time as well as another, but the world conference should have been allowed to complete its deliberations before this highly controversial subject was brought up."

The BOSTON TRANSCRIPT feels that "if the debt issue was destined inevitably to be raised at London, the opening speech of the chairman of the conference was hardly the place for it," and that "considered from any standpoint, the speech is to be regarded as unfortunate." The Transcript suggests, however, that "Mr. MacDonald's popularity on this side of the water should soften the resentment his action has caused."

Observing that in reality "the situation remains in statu quo," and that "negotiations are to be undertaken between Washington and the capitals of those countries which have not defaulted," the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS advises that "this course was always open," and hopes that "a new deal of some kind which will satisfy American interests and remove the debt problem from the field of embittered controversy will now be made."

With the statement that "President Roosevelt has courteously agreed to receive and consider any debt proposals," the ALTOONA MIRROR adds that "this does not mean that he favors either reduction or cancellation of debts," a situation which also is observed by the HAVERHILL GAZETTE. Admitting that political considerations probably affected the British leader, the BOISE IDAHO STATESMAN contends that "this does not detract from the damage done, or serve to heighten our respect for his tactics." The SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW quotes statements as to the existence of a European bloc of debtor nations, and concludes: "If that is to be the attitude of Great Britain and the other powers, the American delegates would better pack their grips and come home."

This position is taken also by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS.

"Perhaps in the knowledge that the subject is first in the minds of Europe and certain explosive utterances must be released," comments the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "there is a determination to give debts an airing and have them over with, that the meeting might get down to the business for which it was called."

The BIRMINGHAM EVENING SUN protests against "attacks of consternation in the American delegation," advising that "too much consternation is hard on the nerves." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS feels that "it was well impossible to speak of the troubles in which the whole world is immersed without making mention of one of the underlying causes."

An opinion which is also voiced also by the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE, the ROANOKE TIMES, the COLUMBIA (S. C.) RECORD, the DANBURY NEWS-TIMES, the LEXINGTON LEADER, the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS, and the NASHVILLE BANNER.

The CHARLOTTE OBSERVER declares: "Some mean and very unwise moves must be frankly and fearlessly faced at this conference. The conferring powers, if they really are in earnest about breaking the international economic jam, must recognize the possible frictions and bad tempers that may be developed unless they are willing at the outset to display a spirit of give-and-take."

Indignation against the European demands impresses the OKLAHOMA CITY TIMES as "unlikely to prove helpful," and the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS argues: "If debt and interest are endangering our social structure, they should be corrected in a reasonable way, for they are interwoven into our whole economic system. General repudiation is certainly not the correction we desire."

Consequently, it scarcely seems wise for us to allow a situation to develop which would lead to a repudiation of the world to refuse to pay.

"If the conference were really to achieve all consideration of the debts, its delegates might as well have remained at home," in the judgment of the FORTH WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, while the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL argues: "The MacDonald utterance, reduced to its elements, contained one of the simplest and oldest maxims. No man lives to himself. No modern nation lives to itself. Politically, said he, a nation may be self-contained. Economically, we cannot be aloof and prosper. The economic conference confronts a terribly complex situation. Yet the only solvent is the application of simple and fundamental square deal in its intangible as well as its tangible elements."

Necessity for ultimate action on the debts is maintained by the DES MOINES TRIBUNE, the PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, the JERSEY CITY JOURNAL, the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, and the DAYTON DAILY NEWS. The CHARLESTON (S. C.) EVENING POST holds that "it is just as well that Mr. MacDonald brought the subject into the forefront of the whole economic situation," and the MORGANTOWN DOMINION-NEWS advises that "rigid insistence upon the letter of the bond will gain no material benefit, and will cause a great loss in that thing of intangible but no less certain value, friendliness."

Bible Thought For Today

The north wind driveth away rain: so doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.—Proverbs 25:23.

Correct this sentence: "In the hospital," said the man "they treated me just as I thought I deserved to be treated."

But the command to love your neighbor as yourself is addressed to him also, the big stiff.

Another explanation of crime overlooked by the explainers is plain human cussedness.

Explains Back To Farm Measure

Provision Made To Acquire Land For Use Of Unemployed Persons

NO FUNDS PROVIDED UNDER STATE ACT

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Senate Bill No. 438, recently approved by Governor Pinchot, authorizes cooperative agricultural associations organized under the provisions of the noncapital stock act of June 12, 1919, or the capital stock act of April 30, 1929, to acquire land suitable for agriculture by purchase, gift or otherwise, which lands may be designated by the associations as State emergency relief farms, state officials explain.

The associations may purchase land from which the ownership of minerals, gas or oil and the right to mine and drill for or remove the same have been excepted or from which water rights, timber rights or other rights have been expected or reserved, provided, that such exceptions or reservations will not interfere with the proper use of the land for which it was acquired. Improvements and buildings which may be required for the proper utilization of these lands may be erected or constructed by the associations.

Emergency Relief Farms
Cooperative agricultural associations acquiring lands for utilization as State emergency relief farms may divide such lands into plots of tillable land and woodlots and lease such plots to heads of unemployed families, resident in the State, who are capable of tilling same and who are at the time receiving aid from public sources, at a yearly rental of ten percent of cost. The associations may build or repair a dwelling house and a barn and other conveniences on each of these plots and dig or drill a well thereon, provided that the cost of no single plot together with improvements thereon shall exceed twelve hundred dollars. The lessee of each plot shall till the soil, keep fences and improvements in repair, keep the buildings insured in an amount equal to their cost to the associations and in addition to the payment of rent, shall agree to pay the taxes.

No funds were specifically appropriated by this act to assist in the formation and supervision of these associations, and no Department of the State Government was given any direct responsibility in the project. Taking advantage of the provisions of the act, therefore, becomes largely a matter of local initiative and action. Information on procedure in forming cooperative associations can be secured from the Bureau of Markets, Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa.

SEEKS TO SPEED BATTLE ON RATES

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 23.—The Utilities League for Municipalities, fighting for lower rates to consumers in western Pennsylvania, will make an immediate attempt to bring the battle before the public service commission.

This announcement was made today by D. Glenn Moore, president of the league, who said rate reductions made by the three large utilities last March were "negligible" since they do not affect the smaller consumer.

Moore added that the league's fight has been strengthened by recent decisions of the Illinois commerce commission ordering rate reductions resulting in an annual saving of more than $1,000,000 yearly to consumers in the Chicago area.

FEDERAL COORDINATOR PLANS RAILROAD SETUP

Joseph B. Eastman, Moves Swiftly In New Capacity

Three Regional Setups Will Be Established, Mileage Will Be Yardstick

By HARRY WARD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Moving swiftly in his capacity as federal coordinator of transportation, Joseph B. Eastman today paved the way for grouping the nation's railroads into three regional setups. They will be known as eastern, southern and western groups.

The law gives him the right to make any changes or subdivisions in such groups as he may deem necessary or desirable.

The big fight on the railroad program is expected to come over the appointment of the regional coordinating committees and it is in this fight that Eastman will have to demonstrate he is railroad czar.

Three Committees. The law provides that "at the earliest practicable date, three regional coordinating committees shall be created, one for each group, and each committee shall consist of five regular members and two special members."

Mileage will be the yardstick in selecting these coordinating committees. The act specifically requires that the coordinator shall "promote or require action on the part of the railroads to avoid unnecessary duplication of services and facilities and permit the joint use of terminals and trackage."

Railroad employees are dealt with in a section which provides that "the number of employees in the service of a railroad shall not be reduced by reason of any action taken pursuant to the authority granted by the act, below the number as shown by the payrolls of employees in service during May, 1933."

A labor committee for each regional group may be selected by those railroad organizations which entered into agreements on Jan. 31, 1932, and Dec. 21, 1932, determining the wages of employees.

A similar labor committee for each regional group may also be selected by such other labor organizations as may be duly designated and authorized to represent employees in accordance with the railway labor act.

Groups Established.

The eastern group will include the following class one roads: Akron, Canton & Youngstown, Ann Arbor, Baltimore & Ohio, Bangor & Aroostook, Bessemer & Lake Erie, Boston & Maine, Canadian National lines in New England, Canadian Pacific (lines in Maine), Canadian Pacific (lines in Vermont), Central Railroad of New Jersey, Central Vermont, Chesapeake & Ohio (including Hocking Valley), Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville, Delaware & Hudson, Delaware Lackawanna & Western, Detroit & Mackinac, Detroit & Toledo Short Line, Detroit Toledo & Ironton, Elgin Joliet & Eastern, Erie Railroad (including Chicago & Erie), Grand Trunk Western, Lehigh & Hudson River, Lehigh & New England, Lehigh Valley, Long Island, Maine Central, Missouri-Illinois, Monongahela, Montour, New Jersey & New York, New York Central system, New York Chicago & St. Louis, New York connecting, New York New Haven & Hartford, New York Ontario &

Western, New York Susquehanna & Western, Norfolk & Western, Pennsylvania railroad (including W. J. & S.), Pere Marquette, Pittsburgh & Shawmut, Pittsburgh & West Virginia, Pittsburgh Shawmut & Northern, Reading company (including Atlantic City), Rutland, Virginian, Wabash lines east of Chicago, Illinois, and Danville, Illinois, including Danville, Western Maryland, Wheeling & Lake Erie.

The setup includes also class two and three steam roads, electric roads and switching and terminal companies in the three regions.

Hapsburg Ruler May Gain Power Over New Union

Archduke Otto May Be Future Ruler Over Proposed Austro-Hungarian Union

MUSSOLINI GIVES APPROVAL TO PLAN

(International News Service) LONDON, June 23.—Archduke Otto of Hapsburg stands out as a likely future ruler of a proposed Austro-Hungarian union which is now the subject of European negotiations.

According to Premier Mussolini's representatives in London, the British and French are in sympathy with the project, and even Chancellor Adolf Hitler has agreed.

Credence was lent to the Italian statements when it was learned that Premier Julius Gombos of Hungary, who so far has been opposed to a Hapsburg restoration, will fly to Rome tomorrow to discuss the archduke's prospects with Mussolini.

Efforts are now being made to convince members of the little entente that it would be to their interest to stabilize European frontiers by restoring a monarch to the throne of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

Mussolini, it was learned, is behind the idea for restoring archduke Otto to the throne on grounds it would settle the Austro-German Anschluss question once and for all. British circles characterize Britain as sitting on the fence regarding the proposal, and the French as "listening."

The French are reserved because Premier Daladier's radical government cannot admit interest in an idea which would be opposed by French radicals and socialists and which is already disturbing the little entente. Nevertheless, the French admit an Austro-Hungarian monarchy to be within the range of possibility.

Jesus Our Lord And Saviour

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Matt. 28:18—And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
(The International Uniform Lesson for June 23 is the regular quarterly review lesson and covers the last ten chapters of Mark, the Golden Text being Matt. 28:18-20.)

THE CLIMAX of purpose of each gospel writer is found in the story of the death and resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ. The shadow and light of these fall over all of these ten chapters of Mark's gospel here reviewed.

When Jesus carried his blessed ministry of healing and grace into Phoenicia to bring a blessing to a Phoenician mother and her afflicted daughter he testified to the universality of the religion of his cross. In his service of love in that heathen home he recognized no barriers of race or sex or creed that could not be obliterated by his divine love.

Having led his disciples into such an appreciation of his personality and mission that they were able to make confession of him as "the Christ, the Son of the living God," Jesus immediately proceeded to reveal to them the necessity of the cross for himself, "that the Son of man must suffer, and be rejected, and killed, and after three days rise again. When they objected he assured them it was necessary not only for him, but for themselves as well, saying, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

The Glory Of The Cross
In his transfiguration his disciples were privileged to look in upon his divine glory upon the mount and to hear him conversing with Moses and Elijah who appeared with him in glory and spoke of his death to be accomplished at Jerusalem. Thus the glory of the cross which had been brought to the realization of his disciples. How sorely these lessons failed to register with them is indicated in their dispute by the way as to which of them should be the greatest. He was willing to serve all, even the last, as represented by a little child he took in his arms, to teach them this lesson of humility and service.

The Cross and Riches
Jesus applied the cross to the subject of our stewardship of earthly possessions in his dealings with the rich young ruler. This young man refused to accept the cross of self-denial for the poor about him and went away from Christ sorrowful. That the disciples needed the same lesson is revealed by Peter's statement, "We have left all and followed thee: what shall we have therefore?" Their self-seeking is particularly evident in the request of James and John for the seats at his right and left hand in his kingdom. This spirit Jesus sought to correct, saying, "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

The Cross and Loyalty
The perfect consistency between the cross and kingship was effectively portrayed by Jesus in the pageant of royalty he staged for the nation in his triumphal entry into Jerusalem in lowliness and humility on Palm Sunday. Here was power, but the power of simplicity; here was royalty, but the royalty of meekness. This is the essence of the cross.

The Shadow Of The Cross
The shadow of the cross revealed the murderous hate of Jesus' enemies and tested the love of his friends. His enemies Jesus answered with parables of judgment; his friends he prepared with words of comfort and hope. He entered into the shadows with prayer first for them about the supper table and then for himself in Gethsemane in the strength of which he endured the cross despising the shame. But the true glory of the cross is seen in the empty tomb and the glad Easter message "Christ is risen from the dead," and in his glorious ascension into heaven bearing in his body, the scars of the cross.

Eighteen States Battleground For Repeal Forces

Liberal Leaders In Capital Predict Victory For Repeal Forces Within Year

SEVERAL STATES APPEAR DOUBTFUL

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Eighteen states, spread far and wide from the Atlantic to the Pacific, today became the battleground for prohibition repeal as liberal leaders in the capital predicted victory within one year.

The test states appeared to be Vermont, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, and Oregon. These were the states in which the senators either divided on the repeal issue or voted solidly against it when the proposed twenty-first amendment was submitted to the nation last February.

Predict Victory
The liberals must win six of these states—along with sixteen in which both senators voted for repeal—to get the eighteenth amendment out of the constitution. The repeal leaders predicted this feat would be accomplished within another year.

The senate repeal vote became a criterion on the outcome of the prohibition war by the result in the first fourteen states to ratify the proposed new amendment. In the first fourteen states to ratify the proposed new amendment. In the tests to date, the wet won easily in those states in which both senators voted against prohibition while the drys put up stiff opposition in states where the senatorial vote was divided or against repeal.

Fourteen Ratify
The fourteen states to ratify repeal have a population of about 46,000,000 people or 37 percent of the nation's total population. They cover 547,869 square miles or about 18 percent of the nation's area.

Need Not Suffer monthly pain and delay due to cold, nervous strain, exposure to similar causes. Chieftesters Diamond Brand Pills are effective, reliable and give Quick Relief. Sold by all druggists for over 45 years. Ask for CHIEFTESTERS PILLS THE DIAMOND BRAND.

Consequently, more than one-third of the people living in more than one-sixth of the nation have voted for repeal.

In eleven of these states, the senators had voted solidly against prohibition. In two—Indiana and Delaware—they divided on the issue, but the repealists won anyway. In Iowa, both senators voted dry—so the repeal victory there came as a smashing blow to the prohibitionists.

The repealists can get prohibition out of the constitution without winning another state in which both senators voted dry. This merely would yield Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma to the drys. It would leave the repeal battle in Arkansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

Liberals Heartened
The repeal victory in Iowa, however, heartened the liberals to fight for the so-called bone dry states. The repealists believed Iowa sentiment would be reflected in her neighboring states of Minnesota, South Dakota and Nebraska. It may even be felt in bone-dry Kansas.

The repealists expressed no doubt about the results in those states, where both senators opposed prohibition. They predicted victory in all such states, despite the fact that some lie within the dry south. These states included Alabama, Arizona, California, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Maine, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee and Washington.

The drys countered with claims for Georgia, Maine, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee. They made the same claims previously about Michigan, New Hampshire, and Wyoming, but all three went for repeal.

Increase Is Shown In Motor Accidents

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 23.—The first five months of 1933 brought an appreciable increase in motor vehicle accidents and injuries in Pennsylvania as compared with the corresponding period of 1932.

Non-fatalities numbered 16,616, an increase of 17.7 per cent over the first five months of last year. Deaths from automobile accidents declined. This year, 721 persons have been killed, three less than in the 1932 five-months period. Property damage was estimated at $1,822,600, a reduction of six per cent from the 1932 figures.

Young Man From Hillsville Will End Air Training

James Williams Will Be Graduated From Texas Air Field June 29

James W. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Williams, of Hillsville, and a nephew of Dr. T. M. Shaffer, of New Castle, will be graduated as a lieutenant in the U. S. Air corps on June 29, at Kelley field, Texas.

Young Williams was graduated from the Bessemer high school in June of '28, following which he took a four year course in aeronautical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology. It was at Bettis field in Pittsburgh that he took his first flying instructions.

The summers of 1931 and 1932 he spent at Fort Humphreys, Va., where he became second lieutenant in the engineer's reserve. After receiving his diploma next week he expects to be placed in one of the government airports.

The young lieutenant's parents and brother, Arthur Williams, Jr., of Hillsville, will leave for Texas Saturday morning to attend the graduation exercises. They expect to attend the World's fair at Chicago on the way home.

Merchants Hear Discussion On Many Problems

Enthusiastic Meeting Held In Y. W. C. A. Green Room Last Night

RENEW INTEREST IN ASSOCIATION

One of the most interesting meetings held in some time by New Castle merchants took place last evening, when a dinner was held in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. under the auspices of the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

There were 40 local merchants in attendance, including several business women, and the discussions on the topics brought up were lively.

DeLace Cole, president of the retail merchants division, presided. During the course of the dinner a number of piano selections were given by James Fox.

Many Topics Discussed.

J. W. Staudinger outlined the efforts which were made against the continuance of the one per cent sales tax during the recent session of the legislature, and reviewed the program which has been outlined for a continuance of this effort.

A discussion was also held on "house to house soliciting and promiscuous advertising," which proved quite interesting.

"Dollar day sales as a benefit to all merchants," was discussed by George Fox. A. L. Blintz and Howard Edwards spoke on "shoplifting and protection of merchants."

J. S. Meyer and Secretary A. W. Chilton of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce spoke on the efforts which are being made to secure improved waterways for the district, and the necessity for cooperation as a trade association. The use of local stone on highway construction projects in the local district was also touched upon, and the opposition which has been voiced to diversion of state highway funds was also discussed.

Jack Gerson gave an interesting talk on "The so-called wholesale-retail method of merchandising."

Renewed interest was displayed in the retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce, and a live merchants division is indicated as a result of last night's meeting.

Chicago Man And Wife Hunted In Iowa For Fatal Gun Battle

(International News Service)

OSKALOOSA, Ia., June 23.—A Chicago to Des Moines liquor runner named Ridout and his pretty wife were the objects of a statewide search today after one of his victims had named Ridout as the gunman who killed one prohibition agent and critically wounded another in a furious battle on a highway near here late yesterday.

Agent Harry H. Elliott of Des Moines was killed and A. A. Murphy of Spencer was shot five times.

The battle occurred when the officers who had been "tipped" that the rum runner was enroute to Des Moines with a load of alcohol "spotted" Ridout near here and gave chase.

Millions Available

For Public Work

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Approval of public works projects throughout the United States is to be passed to state administrators, to be appointed by President Roosevelt after his return to Washington, it was stated today at the office of Col. D. H. Sawyer, public works administrator.

Approximately $400,000,000 is available for projects of all kinds under this head. Owing to the small staff administering the act, and the complex problems of deciding what are meritorious projects, it was said, the work is to be decentralized.

State administrator appointments probably will begin about July 1.

Johnson Will Work Against Price-Fixing

National Recovery Administrator Will Seek To Protect General Public

INDUSTRIES ARE GIVEN WARNING

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 23.—The public will be protected against price-fixing in the new industrial and business codes under the industrial recovery act.

Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator, warned today if any code sets up too much of a monopoly with appearance of price fixing, "I'll have to step in."

He promised a consumers' advisory board would be named before Tuesday, when the first of the hearings on codes, that of the textile industry, will begin.

He disclosed he will not hesitate to use the club which the law gives him. He said he was reluctant to resort to licensing in any industry. "We want to discourage price-fixing," Johnson said, "but we hope the codes submitted to us will be self-policing. What we ask is that the groups make an agreement not to sell below cost."

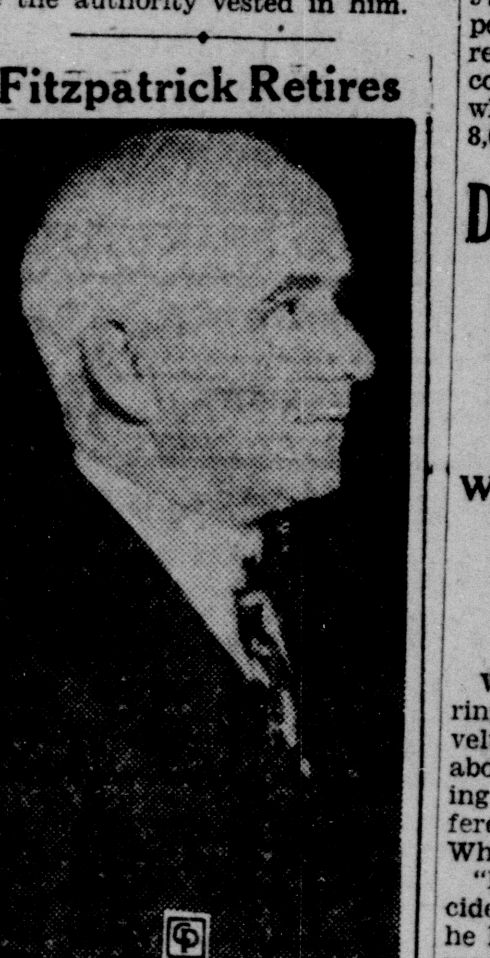

No Price Wars

He said such practices have proved ruinous to small business concerns. "Things are moving much faster than anticipated," Johnson revealed, and he is very much encouraged at the outlook. This optimism extends even to the hard-boiled coal industry which, in the next few days, is expected to offer him the first real test of his power to enforce fair practices in industry.

Even these groups, Johnson continued, appear nearer to co-operation than at any time since the war. He hoped they would be able to work together in this emergency. Should they fail to do so, he made it plain, he would not hesitate to use the authority vested in him.

State administrator appointments probably will begin about July 1.

State Will Rest In Arson Case At Cleveland, Ohio

First-Person Stories Of Holocaust At Apartment Fire Told In Court

ALLEGED FIREBUG OFFERS TESTIMONY

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, June 23.—With a vivid first-person story of the tragic fire recounted to the jury by Fire Chief James E. Granger, the state today planned to rest its case at the first degree murder trial of Ray I. Turk after summoning so-called expert witnesses.

Turk was alleged to have entered into a "deal" with a gang of Pennsylvania fire-bugs to burn the Ellington apartment building in order to collect $15,000 insurance on his barber shop located there. Thirteen persons perished in the fire that followed.

Fire Chief Granger, describing the blaze as a "veritable inferno" alleged in his testimony that the flames that roared through the Ellington building on that fatal June night a year ago had been fed by "some highly volatile liquid."

The testimony of Granger and Abe Redlich, Pennsylvania firebug, have thus far proved to be the sensation of the trial. Redlich, now serving a term for arson in the Beaver County Pa. jail, was brought here to testify. After admitting that he was a member of an arson ring that fired an Ambidge, Pa. shoe store, Redlich offered testimony tending to link Turk with the Pennsylvania firebugs.

Summer Lull Not Evident

Business Continues To Increase Despite Traditions Of Season

MANY WORKERS ADDED TO PAYROLLS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 23.—Without as yet giving any indication of the normal summer lull, business is maintaining its revival pace and exceeding even "the most sanguine expectations" Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., declared today in its week end review.

Further wage rises have occurred in such industries as limestone, cotton mills in the south, zinc and lead smelters and brewers. This further broadened the basic purchasing power and brought new gains in retail trade.

A further spur to buying has been the widespread advertising of retailers who are declaring that current prices are the lowest which will prevail for many years as mark ups will soon be general.

More workers have been added to the payrolls in the last 60 days than in any comparative period in the last 3 years, it was stated.

Wholesale markets are keeping pace with the upturn in retail trade and industrial production, the steadily advancing prices having brought the volume of orders booked as high as 50 per cent above a year ago. More lines are reporting distress stocks of merchandise being rapidly cleared away, in sharp contrast with the situation a year ago.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Definite indicators of business improvement came today from the federal reserve board and treasury department.

Miscellaneous internal revenue receipts for May were $99,066,000, the highest for any month since the war. These sales and stamp taxes form an excellent thermometer of business trends.

The beer and wine tax yielded about $11,500,000. At that rate a full year's collection would count $138,000,000. However, the trend has been upward over the past few weeks.

NEW YORK, June 23.—Cigarette production in the United States soared to an all time high of 12,822,972,513 units in May, a jump of 47.6 per cent from a year ago, internal revenue figures disclosed today. This compares with 7,970,000,000 in April while the total in May, 1932, was 8,685,337,417.

Deny Reports Of Roosevelt Going To London Parley

White House Again Denies Roosevelt Will Sail For London Conference

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Recurring reports that President Roosevelt contemplates visiting London aboard the U. S. S. Indianapolis during the international economic conference were again denied at the White House today.

"President Roosevelt definitely decided against visiting London before he left on his nautical vacation, and made this clear to the White House correspondents on several occasions," an executive secretary declared today.

(International News Service)

He was found at the plant of a stove company which he recently owned, with a bullet wound in the right temple. He was removed to Methodist Hospital where physicians said his condition is not critical. An audit of Kinney's books while director of the Department of Finance recently made public by the state auditor showed an alleged shortage in his cash accounts.

Auto Damaged By Fire Last Night

Believe Machine Was Set Afire—Man Seen Running From Scene Of Blaze

Fire, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, ruined the sedan of J. W. Kline, rear Allen street, at 12:20 last night. The damage was estimated by Assistant Chief James E. Thomas at $150. No insurance was carried by the owner. Firemen from Central and No. 4 departments were summoned to the scene, and extinguished the blaze. Kline stated that he had not used the car since 8 o'clock last evening. The fire when discovered seemed to be in the upholstery in the rear seat. Persons in the vicinity stated that they saw a man running away from the direction of the fire immediately after it was discovered.

HUGE GOLD FISH FOUND IN RIVER

(International News Service) BOSTON, June 23.—The Muddy River, a beautiful stream meandering through the fens, is a huge goldfish bowl.

Goldfish were placed in the river, perhaps by former owners who did not wish to kill them, and now through the years their offspring have grown to the size of trout.

At one spot there is a huge school of them, where through the clear water they may be seen darting after the minnows.

Chain Stores Plan Code For Business

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 23.—Chain store executives conferred with Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson this morning at his headquarters, preparatory to planning their organization activities under the national recovery act.

The conference today was preceded by a meeting late yesterday at which the executives discussed the phases of the law which affect them.

Their meeting today was to receive guidance from Johnson in drawing up their code, and in organizing.

Co-eds Are Finally Barred From College

(International News Service)
GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 23.—Co-eds were finally barred from Gettysburg College when the board of trustees voted against postponing the effect of the ban on feminine students, first approved in 1925.

The last of the co-eds, eight of them, were graduated among a class of ninety-eight at the annual commencement exercises recently.

To win the medal they competed in a hike from New Salem, Ill., to Springfield. The trail is 22 miles over the Lincoln Highway. The pair hitch-hiked to the World's Fair at Chicago and then participated in the scout hike.

Bar Association Delegates Will Elect Officers

Election Of Harold B. Beitler, Of Philadelphia, Is Virtually Conceded

REJECT PROPOSAL LIMITING MEMBERS

(International News Service)
BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., June 23.—With the election of Harold B. Beitler, Philadelphia, as president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association virtually conceded, action at the organization's annual convention today centered around the fight to name a successor to his post as secretary.

Beitler, who has held the secretaryship for the last 16 years, is resigning his post. Friends are booming him for the presidency of the State Bar League and little opposition is expected when nominations are called for in today's sessions.

Aaron S. Swartz, Norristown, and Walter B. Gibbons, Philadelphia, are being mentioned as strong contenders in the race for Beitler's post and long debate is expected as the nominations are called.

The convention today had rejected a measure designed to limit membership in the legal profession on the ground that the proposal was un-American. This proposal followed one suggesting that students be required to serve six months as a clerk in the employ of a practicing lawyer after taking his final bar examination. This measure was adopted.

The restricted membership motion was denied after a debate in which Superior Court Judge Joseph Stadfeld told the meeting that the suggestion was contrary to American principles and that any problems in connection with the surplus of lawyers would be solved by "survival of the fittest."

William B. Ryan, Shamokin, and Edward S. McCaig, Philadelphia, also campaigned against the proposal.

The women of Willard grange will have complete charge of the program to be given at their next meeting Tuesday night, June 27. The grange is conducting a contest between the men and women, each group putting on an evening's entertainment at a regular meeting.

The judges for the occasion are W. S. Fullerton, master of Lawrence County Pomona grange, Mrs. Thomas Lindsay, of East Brook grange and Mrs. Harry Boots, of Pleasant Hill grange.

TWO CIGARS ARE BOMBING CLUE

(International News Service)
WATCHUNG, N. J., June 23.—With two cigars, one partly smoked, and a five cent piece as their only clues, police today pressed a search for a would-be assassin or assassins who placed a dynamite bomb in the automobile of Rep. Charles A. Eaton, (R) of the 5th New Jersey district. The bomb was discovered, and the congressman's life probably saved, by the alertness of Joseph Ballontin, an employee, who discovered the infernal machine when he went to investigate a noise in the Eaton garage.

The cigars and the coin were found in the garage. There were no other "leads."

The state was the first of all in the union to adopt such a tax. Forty-five others have since followed Pennsylvania's lead. Alabama and Nevada have no inheritance tax laws.

SPANISH PILGRIMS TO HONOR PRINCE

(International News Service)
VATICAN CITY, June 23.—Many Spaniards are visiting Rome to be present for the beatification of Father Joseph Pignatelli, a Spanish prince of Italian origin who, after being expelled with other Jesuits from Spain in 1767 and suffered disabilities when Pope Clement 14th suppressed the Jesuit Order, gave Pope Pius 7th a fortune to support him as Napoleon's prisoner and then when that pontiff rescinded the Order's suppression, returned to Rome. Here he lived many years, and performed several miracles of healing. A railroad crossing as well as a barber shop offers splendid opportunities for a close shave.

Cyril Buck On Stand Tries To Shield Brother

Elder Buck Tries To Make Court Believe Bootlegging Gang Planned Kidnaping

ADMITS TO PART IN KIDNAPING

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
 International News Service Staff Correspondent
 BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 23.—Cyril Buck, on trial with his brother, Kenneth, for the kidnaping of 10-year-old Peggy McMath, resumed the stand Thursday for further cross-examination by District Attorney William C. Crossley.

He admitted that Kenneth was the masked man who had kept Peggy a prisoner. But he shielded his brother, too, by declaring he always believed Kenneth was only the agent for a gang of kidnapers.

Forces Admission
 District Attorney Crossley forced Cyril to admit he knew no one, with the exception of his brother, Kenneth, who was "in on" the kidnaping of Peggy.

Q—You were in constant touch with Kenneth all the time?
 A—No sir.

Q—Well you were from Wednesday (May 3, the day after the kidnaping) until the return of the child.
 A—Yes.

Gang Of Bootleggers
 Q—And there was no one else but Kenneth in on the kidnaping?
 A—Yes there was. A gang of bootleggers.

But Cyril couldn't name any of the bootleggers.

The witness was shown the rain coat and shoes Kenneth wore the night of the $50,000 ransom payment. Cyril identified them as his. He said Kenneth borrowed them.

Cyril admitted Kenneth was using a disguise so McMath would not know who he was.

The district attorney began to hammer away at the ransom money deal.

Gave Police Tip
 The witness denied he ever told the authorities he would get the money back. He admitted, however, that he took the police to Kenneth Buck's home.

"I knew he had $10,000 and I believed they could get on the right track of the criminals," said Cyril.

DAYTON MAN IS TAKEN BY MAN

Chicago Gang Kidnap Man From Street, Companion Flees And Is Wounded

(International News Service)
 CHICAGO, June 23.—Francis Lepper of Dayton, O., suffering from a bullet wound in the neck, told police that five gunmen had kidnaped his friend, Frank Conner, also of Dayton.

Jumping aboard his automobile after crowding it to the curb, Lepper said the five men flourished guns and shouted they were going to take Lepper for a ride.

He was shot, Lepper said, when he left his car and fled. The gang then drove away with Conner. Physicians at St. Mary's hospital said his wound was not serious.

Police began a search for the gang. Lepper said he was a hotel manager in Dayton until three weeks ago.

BELIEVE RADIO SIGNAL MAY BE ABOUT MATTERN

Report Several U. S. Coast Stations Pick Up Message From Russia

(International News Service)
 SEATTLE, Wash., June 23.—Cryptic radio signals containing the word "airplane" were interpreted here today as a good omen that Jimmy Mattern, missing globe girdling aviator, may be safe at some isolated Siberian point.

Mattern has been missing 10 days since he hopped off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, for Nome, Alaska. A Russian station with the call letters "RMAZ" transmitted a mysterious call reported heard by amateur radio operators in Washington, Oregon, and by an army airplane near Seattle.

The signals were in Russian and only the word "airplane" was intelligible.

"RMAZ", a land station at Nakodka, may have received information from some other remote Russian station which it was endeavoring to pass along concerning Mattern in accordance with recent orders of the Soviet government to transmit all possible information about the missing aviator, it was believed here.

Powerful U. S. army and navy stations along the Pacific coast made renewed efforts today to contact "RMAZ."

Flood Survivors Married Again At Golden Wedding

(International News Service)
 PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. John Grosset, survivors of the Johnstown flood were married a second time.

So many relatives and friends desired to see the ceremony that the church was jammed to capacity.

The bridegroom is 74 and the bride 70.

During the Johnstown flood, a boy on a raft ferried them from the second-story windows of their home to dry land. All their household goods were swept away in the swirling waters that claimed hundreds of lives.

Several weeks later a fellow workman of Grosset in the Cambria Steel company plant found a tin type of Mrs. Grosset after the flood waters receded and returned it to him. Today, it is his only souvenir of the disastrous flood.

 TARENTUM, Pa., June 23.—Citizens who turn in fire alarms for ambulance calls will be prosecuted in the future, Al Walters, chief of the Brackenridge Hose Company, near here, announced.

Walters appealed to the public to call the fire house for ambulance service so that heavy fire apparatus need not be sent out on alarms where they are not needed.

Relief Families Showing Decrease

(International News Service)

MOTHER FORGETS HER CHILD ON TRAIN

(International News Service)
 OSTRAU, Austria.—A light-hearted Austrian mother, Mrs. Ella Beinauer, forgot to take her 7-month-old baby boy with her when she changed trains at Ostrau and didn't notice the oversight until she reached Zauchel three hours later.

Almost hysterical she telephoned the station master at Ostrau and was informed a baby had been delivered to the lost and found department. When she arrived a policeman was waiting to arrest her on charges of abandoning the infant, but her tears of joy convinced him that Frau Beinauer actually left the baby behind by mistake.

LOSES ROLL WHEN HE DISCARDS TROUSERS

(International News Service)
 LEBANON, Pa., June 23.—Modesty was thrown into the ash can on a hot Sunday here by Irwin Krause. He decided to shed his pants.

Krause, employed in a local garage, hung his trousers on a bench while changing a tire. He then went back to his work.

After finishing the job, he went to his trousers and discovered that $24 which he had in a pocket was missing.

Police were notified. After a short grilling, a youth living nearby admitted the theft and returned the money.

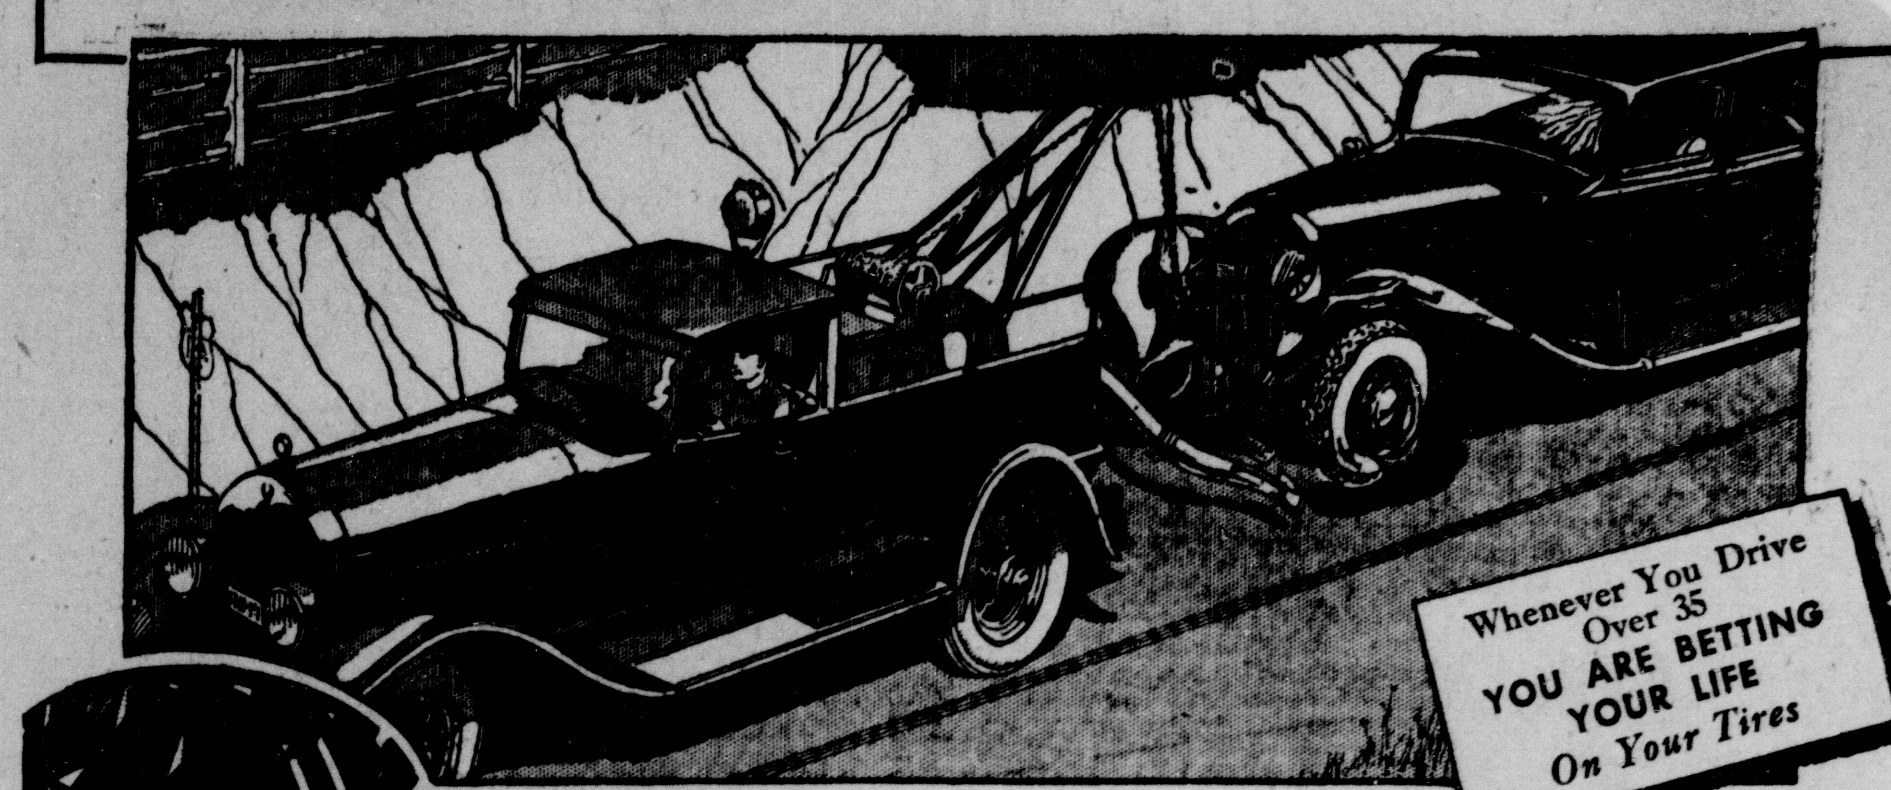

STATE IS PROMISED GOOD CROP OF HAY

(International News Service)
 HARRISBURG, June 23.—Hay and pasture in Pennsylvania showed a marked improvement during May, the federal-state crop reporting service reports. Fruit crop prospects are less promising than a month ago.

The seasonal decline has begun in egg production, while milk production has increased, but not up to the 1932 level.

Rain has greatly retarded oats plantings and barley prospects are generally favorable. Winter wheat is superior to that of a month ago, while much corn remains to be planted.

Whenever You Drive Over 35 YOU ARE BETTING YOUR LIFE On Your Tires

Built of Superlastic Cords
a marvelous—a patented invention—makes the Tire Stretch instead of Break—Abolishes the "Blowout Zone"
 Guards your life when you drive over 35

Tire Prices May Jump Any Day—Order Now!
 IN a two-year road test of standard tires, ALLSTATE wore on the average from 13.8% to 57.1% more miles than the other standard brands.

We wore out fleets of cars—ran tires six million miles. Every day we moved each tire from one wheel to the next, so that all makes tested would undergo like wear.

And not one ALLSTATE Balloon blew out! Many tire makers have striven to end blowouts and their dangers. For insurance records disclose that tire failure is a chief cause of fatal accidents. That whenever you drive over 35 an hour you are betting your life on your tires.

So makers of leading tires have added extra plies, made rubber tougher, treads heavier, cords stronger. But tires continue to blow out.

Now Sears, in these six-million-mile tests, has demonstrated that not strength alone, but STRETCH in the cords, is the way to make tires unblowable. The reason is this: When a car is in motion, the tires flex up and down constantly. If the cords lack stretch, this forms a hinge on the sides—frays them out—creates a "Blowout Zone." That's why 95% of the blowouts do not occur through the tread where wear is greatest—but through the sides. Hence for ALLSTATE Tires, a wholly new cord was invented—a marvelous Superlastic Cord with 25% to 30% more stretch than average. It makes the ALLSTATE arch when it flexes—makes it "give" under blows and stress—relieves the strain that breaks non-elastic cords.

And ALLSTATE is doubly protected under the tread by a wonderful Intra-woven Shock Breaker, 20% stronger than two extra plies or breaker strips. Yet due to Sears large-volume sales, these great Unblowable Balloons are actually priced below all other standard makes.

Let the least that you do to put ALLSTATES on your front wheels. For front-wheel tires steer your car. Don't take a chance there. Come to Sears today.

Beer Business Is Rather Disappointing

(International News Service)
 PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The beer business in Philadelphia has not attained its anticipated proportions, it was revealed today by J. Louis Breitelinger, counsel to City Treasurer George E. Kemp, who reported that about 25 persons who opened beer dispensaries in the first rush have closed their places for lack of business.

Some of them had borrowed money to pay their license costs and in order not to inflict undue hardship, the $300 fees were returned, Breitelinger said.

About 20 other tap house proprietors are now seeking transfers to other locations because of poor business, Breitelinger said, but he warned: "No more fee refunds."

Chance For Golfers To Get Real Dough

(International News Service)
 SCRANTON, Pa., June 23.—The title of golf king in the Keystone State will be at stake July 21 and 22 at the twentieth annual Pennsylvania golf championship tournament to be played over the 18-hole course of the Scranton Country Club at Clarks Summit.

Any golfer in the United States, either amateur or professional in good standing, belonging to or associated with a member club of the United States Golf Association is eligible to compete for the crown and the $1,500 in cash prizes.

The City of Philadelphia will make a strong bid for the title. Such outstanding performers as J. Wood Platt, James Robbins, W. B. McCullough, E. B. Leisenring, Chris Brinke, Perry Hall and other celebrated linksmen from the Quaker

City and surrounding territory, have made definite reservations to display their skill in the open.

NEST FOR DOVES

DENVER, Colo.—Motormen on the Fourth avenue tramway line in Denver take special pride in the safety of a nest of young doves perched on a platform between two high voltage wires.

On discovering the nest filled with eggs several weeks ago, the motormen agreed to shut off the power on their cars and coast past the poles on which the nest was built, as it was located on a "breaker." Failure to shut off the power would have meant electrocution for the mother and her young.

cratic members of congress for revocation or orders issued by president Hoover "blanketing" 6,000 government workers into the civil service will be placed before postmaster-general Farley today.

Spokesmen for a special congressional patronage committee planned to urge Farley to recommend that President Roosevelt take this action immediately upon his return to Washington.

A precedent was established by the president recently when he declared the positions of a group of agricultural department workers who had been "blanketed" into civil service, open to competitive examination.

While the workers remain in the civil service, new examinations must be ordered and the places filled as a result of the examinations.

Public men and entertainers get only two kinds of mail, letters of praise and letters from darned cranks.

Happy Host Of 350 Romps At Mission Outing At Cascade

Old Sol smiled down upon a host of happy youngsters at Cascade Park today, as over 350 City Rescue Mission children romped to their heart's content at the annual outing which the mission sponsors for its Sunday school.

As early as 10 o'clock this morning, truckloads of excited tots began to chug into the municipal pleasure park with nothing but one grand time of fun and frolic, and of course, a picnic feast, on the program. Other cars brought children to the grounds up until noon.

Long before the arrival of the caravan, Manager Chris Coulthard of Cascade and his aides had arranged everything in the shady picnic grove for their convenience. It was around those tables that the hungry throng gathered at noon for dinner.

And only one who watched the youngsters eat could accurately describe the joy the boys and girls found in dining, for Superintendent Ben J. Watkins and his helpers saw to it that food wasn't lacking and that second or third helpings were served if there was call for them.

Merchants of New Castle helped mission authorities by their generous donations of foodstuffs, Superintendent Watkins said.

This afternoon will bring a program for the kiddies in the grove section, after which, at a late hour, the tired but jolly children will be returned by truck to their homes.

A staff of volunteers gave appreciated service at the picnic today.

Repairs Made To Y. W. C. A. Window

Several new panes of glass were inserted and repairs made to the window frames on the North Jefferson street side of the Y. W. C. A. building this morning. The old panes of glass had been broken and the woodwork damaged by a fire of earlier this week, started when a cigarette was tossed on the window awning.

Davies To Fill Zeitler's Berth

Director of safety D. O. Davies today stated that he would ask soon of the civil service commission that council be supplied with a list of eligible firemen. He has decided to fill the vacancy caused by the discharge of J. B. Zeitler, fireman, who failed to appear to answer a charge of being absent from duty without permission. Ben Hartland is now serving as a temporary fireman.

Mayor Not To Fill Latera's Position

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today said he does not propose, at this time, to recommend a temporary appointment to fill the place of City Policeman Robert W. Latera, granted a leave of absence today. The leave of absence was granted during formal council meeting at city hall.

An educated man, is one who knows about the "greatest flight in history" recorded in other lands.

Lay Cornerstone At Post Office Week From Today

One week from today will bring the cornerstone laying ceremony for New Castle's new postoffice building and today the building was being rushed by the contractor.

Behind the frame barricade which encloses the new structure can be seen a skeleton outline of what the magnificent stone structure's base will look like when the work is completed. At both the main Washington street entrance and the South Jefferson street doorway, beautiful granite stones flank both sides of the passageway. The granite base trim has been completed.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand will preside over the exercises at 5 o'clock on June 30. President R. F. Galbreath of Westminster college will head the list of speakers.

Wrestlers Enroute To Philadelphia

Jim Londos, heavyweight wrestler, Strangler Ray and several other Catch-as-catch-can grapplers while enroute to Philadelphia were delayed today when Ray's car broke down at Wampum. He stayed over while his car was being repaired. Another machine conveyed Londos and the other wrestlers to Philadelphia where they will wrestle Friday night.

SIWALK FOR NEW SPAN TO GO DOWN WITHIN FEW DAYS

Workmen expect to lay the new steel sidewalk flooring on the northern side of the West Washington street bridge within a short time, it was announced today. The cartway flooring on that side is now down. An injury suffered on duty yesterday kept Arthur Whetstone of Youngstown, foreman on the job, from work today.

Roosevelt Is Given Clock

President Is Given Ship's Clock By Democratic Women Of Maine

POINTS SCHOONER UP MAINE COAST

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT International News Service Staff Correspondent

EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT OFF GREAT CHEROKEE ISLAND, Me., June 23—

Informed in lengthy dispatches of the London economic conference developments, President Roosevelt, tanned and weatherbeaten from sun and wind, today expressed himself as highly gratified over the present status.

Then, while the sun blazed brilliantly, and with a fair northwest wind prevailing, the Presidential vacation schooner Ambergjack II hoisted anchor and pointed her nose for Tenants Harbor, near Rockland, en route for Campobello Island, N. B.

Presented with Clock

The Presidential party was joined at Portland by Franklin Jr., who graduated recently from Groton school. John, the President's youngest son, and a friend, A. Y. Paul, of Philadelphia. The "skipper" divided his crew of nine into three watches, using six on the Ambergjack and having three sleep on the destroyer Bernarou, one of the armada trailing the Ambergjack.

President Roosevelt was elated over a ship's clock presented him at Chandler's Cove last night by Mrs. Charles T. Donoghue, Democratic national committeewoman, in behalf of the Democratic women of Maine. The crew of the Ambergjack has suffered some inconvenience due to the fact that the cook stove has been "falling down" on them. The trouble was to be repaired soon, for an electric blower is en route from Philadelphia.

TELEPHONE HEADS HOLD CONFERENCE

Managers of the different offices served by the New Castle district Bell Telephone company are holding a conference here today.

East St. Louis Woman Is Found Slaying Victim

Find Body Of Well Dressed Woman In Patch Of Weeds, Was Bludgeoned

(International News Service)

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., June 23—The body of a well-dressed woman, about forty years old, who had apparently been bludgeoned to death after being criminally attacked was found lying in a patch of weeds near a dirt road on the outskirts of the city today.

The weeds at the point where the body was found were trampled down and were blood-spattered indicating that the victim had put up a terrific struggle for her life, officers said. The blood led them to believe the attacker may have been injured since the woman had bled only slightly.

River Survey Report Will Be Sent To Capitol

Re-Study Of Canalization Plans Completed, Steyer States

REVIVE RIVER TO LAKE CANAL IDEA

Announcement was made in Pittsburgh Thursday afternoon by Major W. D. Steyer, commandant of the United States Army Engineering forces in the Pittsburgh district, that the re-survey of the Beaver and Mahoning river canalization plans has been completed and that the report will be submitted to Washington early next week.

The Beaver-Mahoning river canalization plan was first broached three years ago, and since that time, agitation for its early completion has been fostered by the Beaver, Mahoning, and Shenango Rivers Association.

When the plan as first submitted, was rejected, the original idea was modified, and instead of a canal reaching from the Ohio river to Warren, O., with a branch to the Shenango to Greenville, the plan called for canalization of the Beaver and Mahoning from the mouth of the Beaver to Struthers, O.

A resurvey of proposed plans to link the Ohio river with Lake Erie has also been ordered by the Army Board.

Both these plans have been revived through the recent passage of the Industrial Recovery Act.

COUNTERFEIT PENNY STUNS FEDERAL MEN

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Mass.—For the first time in many years a counterfeit United States one cent piece made its appearance in Boston—and so perfect in workmanship was it, that an examination with a magnifying glass almost failed to detect any irregularity. It was only when the coin was dropped that the counterfeit was noticeable.

Federal officials did not believe it was the work of a real counterfeiter, but that some one made a duplicate penny at a cost much greater than a cent.

St. Joseph's School Closes Term Today

Vincent Smolinski Has A Perfect Attendance Record For Eight Years

St. Joseph's Parochial School closed a very successful term this morning, when the pupils returned to hear the results of their final examinations. The majority passed to higher grades. Those who did not attain the specified grades will be required to take over the same studies next term.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 43, American Legion presented a beautiful medal to the girl pupils of the eighth grade, who attained the distinction of being the outstanding pupil in her grade in the school. The class elected Miss Virginia M. Doone to be the recipient of this honor. Quite a number of the pupils of the school were the recipients of perfect attendance certificates. In this number was Vincent Smolinski, who has a perfect attendance record for eight years.

The school has as its instructors members of the order of the Sisters of St. Francis and under their supervision has attained a very enviable scholastic standing in the community and the Diocese of Pittsburgh.

ment of labor.
Employment in virtually every other branch of industry also has gained

Courtship Of 22 Years Ends When Girl Files Suit

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, June 23.—Ending
a courtship of 22 years, Bessie Lawrence has filed suit against George Erven for $25,000 damages for breach of promise.

Miss Lawrence avers that Erven began making love to her in 1910.
She then began keeping company with him, she said.

In 1911, Erven is said to have asked her to marry him and she consented.
However, Miss Lawrence states
that finally, on August 7, 1932, the defendant told her he could not keep his promise and would not marry her. The suit maintains that Miss Lawrence broke down physically and has suffered mental anguish, as well as great humiliation.

Baruch Will Not Occupy Offices In Washington

New York Financier Will Not Use Moley's Office Rooms
During Absence

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 23.—Bernard M. Baruch, the noted New York financier, who has been appointed unofficial adviser to President Roosevelt during the absence of Assistant Secretary of State Moley in London, let it be known Thursday that he does not intend to occupy any offices in the state department.

This decision, it was understood, was made by Baruch as a result of the publicity given to the announcement that he would occupy Moley's office during the latter's absence in London.

Baruch authorized Moley's office to announce that he had no intention of making use of any offices in the state department and that he would make his Washington headquarters at a local hotel.
Moley announced prior to his departure that the New York financier would use his offices.

units of the Pennsylvania National

Mystery Of Gruesome Find Is Cleared Up

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 23.—Visions of murderous racketeers and gangsters floated before the eyes of Harrisburg police when a tear gas gun was found on a bridge sidewalk here.
A paper bag containing loaded gas cartridges lay nearby. Blood on the package added a realistic touch.

A little investigating solved the mystery. It developed that Frank
J. McHugh, 21, a clerk at the Dauphin Deposit Trust Company, had been testing tear gas equipment. McHugh fired the gun but it recoiled and struck and cut him in the face. Blood from the wound dripped upon the bag containing the cartridges.

Treated at the Harrisburg hospital, McHugh returned to the scene and discovered the gun and cartridges missing. Police had them.

Provided Suits For Four Youths Wanted Before Grand Jury

(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., June 23.—Mrs.
Fannie Rudolph of Brady township was arrested and placed in the county jail on the charge of "dissolving and hindering or preventing witnesses from testifying."
The charge was new to arresting officers and they awaited developments. Mrs. Rudolph said her four sons, wanted as witnesses, had no clothes fit to come before the grand jury.
County Detective Hardee H. Hep-ler went into the township and brought the sons, Albert, Henry,

Michael and James, to the courthouse. All four were dressed only in overalls and nondescript shoes.
Detective Heppler took the youths to the welfare supply room in the courthouse and soon fitted them out with clothing, and all four testified before the grand jury.

Gratified at the spirit of cooperation displayed as the two governing units joined hands to work for a common cause, New Castle and Lawrence county residents were assured that within the very near future definite action in some form or another would start.

Intense Heat Has Damaged Crops In Mid-West Section

Grain Harvest In Mid-West May Be Smallest Since Year Of 1907

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 23.—Surveying the damage done by the record breaking June heat and drought in the central states, statisticians today said the grain harvest this season may be the smallest since 1907. Experts predicted an aggregate harvest of wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley of only 4,300,000,000 bushels or less this season unless rain falls in the grain belt before July 1. In 1907 the crop aggregated 4 billion 164 million bushels.

The intense heat has done irreparable damage to the oats crop, statisticians showed.

So get your strawberries. And get two bottles of Certo, too. That's enough to make up 40 glasses of the finest tasting Strawberry Jam you can put on your table. Certo is a product of General Foods. Get it at your grocer's.

*NOTE: With Certo you can also make jelly from strawberries. Certo, you see, provides the jellifying power which strawberries themselves lack.

U. S. Stand Is Given To Parley

Attitude Of Delegates Is Clarified In Resolution At Conference

ABUNDANT CREDIT MOVE IS SPONSORED

(International News Service) GEORGIOLOGICAL MUSEUM, LONDON, June 23.—Forcing the currency stabilization question into the background, the American delegation to the world economic conference today moved to sponsor abundant credit and other means of speedy and progressive world recovery thru cooperative action.

The Americans submitted a resolution to the monetary commission outlining the American position on price levels and credit policy. The resolution further clarified the United States stand, since it came on the heels of American refusal to enter a temporary currency stabilization agreement on grounds such action would halt the rise in prices at home.

It pointed out that world industry and trade have failed to meet adequately low levels, that the unemployment burden is increasing, and that the present emergency is of such nature as to make it necessary for nations to cooperate to the fullest extent in combating the depression.

The resolution further declared that release of abundant credit and wise encouragement of private enterprise through government expenditure was essential in prices and business and that government expenditures for such a program could be properly financed by borrowing.

The resolution also proposed that acceleration of recovery should include a synchronized program of governmental expenditure in the different countries along parallel lines designed to stimulate natural sources of employment, start up the wheels of industry and commerce and restore individual confidence.

If men kill you quickly that's murder; if they multiply noises that shorten your life, that's civilization.

Senator Reed Speaks At Erie

Says Part Of Roosevelt Program May Be Held To Be Unconstitutional

(International News Service) ERIE, Pa., June 23.—Senator David A. Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, today went on record with the information that unless the U. S. supreme court keeps an eye cocked on the 1932 Roosevelt landslide, a considerable portion of the administration's emergency program will be ruled unconstitutional.

Much of the emergency legislation, Reed told the Erie County Bar Association, is unconstitutional and "will be so held by the supreme court, if that body does not follow the election returns!" Reed satirized the title of national recovery bill, remarking: "The sweeter the name, I suppose, the sweeter the rose."

Reed cited the farm bill and the Muscle Shoals bill as most likely to be held unconstitutional.

J. A. Wirth, Westinghouse Employee, Dies After Lingering Illness

(International News Service) SHARON, Pa., June 23.—J. A. Wirth, 73, the first local employee of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, died today after a long illness.

Wirth had been employed by the company for 44 years, retiring in 1931. He was works engineer here when he resigned. He was transferred here from East Pittsburgh in 1922.

AUTO VS. HORSE
(International News Service) VANCOUVER, Wash., June 23.—Automobiles and horses don't mix on the same race track. Two race horses had to be killed and Miss Marie Wright, 19, narrowly escaped death when the two animals broke from their paddock and raced in front of Miss Wright's speeding automobile.

Lithuania Makes Payment On Debt

Lithuania Is First Country To Take Heed Of Warning Given Out By U. S.

CAN NOW JOIN REVISION PARADE

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 23.—Quick payment by Lithuania of $10,000 on its $132,091 June 15 debt installment today marked the first results of this government's warning that the defaulting debtor nations would not be welcome at the debt revision parade of the non-defaulting countries here late this summer.

Lithuania failed to make any payment on June 15 and waited to see what attitude this government would adopt towards the defaulters before making known its intentions. Less than 24 hours after it became apparent this government intended to bar the defaulting nations from the debt revision parade, the Lithuanian minister, M. Bronius Balutis, telephoned acting Secretary of State Phillips that he had received word from his government to notify the state department of Lithuania's intention to make a partial payment.

Attack Is Made On Chamberlain

(International News Service) LONDON, June 23.—The startling assertion that Britain would rather have President Roosevelt as its Chancellor of the Exchequer than Neville Chamberlain, the present incumbent, was made in the House of Commons this afternoon.

The speaker was Col. Josiah Wedgwood, laborite, who subjected Chamberlain to a scathing denunciation, comparing his alleged inactivity to the efforts of President Roosevelt to effect economic rehabilitation in the United States.

TREAT STATE EMPLOYEES

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Three hundred and seventy-five persons connected with the State government at Harrisburg have received first-aid treatment at the central office of the State Health Department since January 1. It was emphasized that this work was exclusively of an emergency character and that all patients thus receiving aid were referred to personal physicians for necessary medical attention.

McBride Post To Hold Picnic

Tri-County Council Posts Will Be Invited To Annual Event July 27

REPORTS MADE OF STATE ENCAMPMENT

Arrangements for the annual picnic of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, have been completed, it was announced by Chairman Frank Conner, at the meeting of the post Wednesday evening.

The event will be held on July 27, at Castle Beach, and will be a joint picnic by the post and auxiliary. Posts belonging to the Tri-County Council, in Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties and their auxiliaries will also be invited to attend.

Arrangements have been made to have exclusive use of the beach at this time, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Reports of the state department encampment at Allentown, held last week, were rendered by Frank Conner and Post Commander James A. Bell, who reported at length on the various activities which were taken up at the encampment.

Delegates to the national encampment, which will be held at Milwaukee in August were elected by the post. They are Clarence A. Leslie and Frank Conner. Commander A. F. Miller and James A. Bell are the alternates.

A special train will convey those going to the encampment from the Pittsburgh district, and will stop at the National V. F. W. Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and at the Century of Progress in Chicago, en route.

Factory Inspectors Without Funds, Ask For State Volunteers

State Will Pay Dollar Per Year And Expenses For Volunteer Factory Inspectors

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, June 23.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot issued a call Thursday for volunteers to aid the department of labor and industry in its inspection of working conditions in Pennsylvania's industries.

Lack of funds has crippled the staff of factory inspectors making it necessary to appeal for voluntary aid, the governor said.

The appeal was directed at persons between 25 and 35 years of age who are financially able to work for a dollar-a-year salary. Expenses incurred during their investigations will be paid by the commonwealth.

An increase in the staff of inspectors was made necessary, the governor said, by "the flood of complaints coming as a result of the public hearings on child labor and sweat shop conditions."

ARRANGEMENTS MADE Don McClure, manager for this year's Missionary Conference, to be held in August, has been in town preparing plans for this year's convention. Schedules must be made, tents must be erected, objects used in the Conference must be cleaned and repaired, and all in all, a considerable amount of work must be done to accommodate the representatives of the convention.

REPLANTING GARDENS Many local gardeners are busy replanting their gardens, ruined last week by the heavy frost. The lower spots of the town were most subject to the frost and many gardens were completely ruined, but all are going back to work cultivating, planting and replanting with an optimistic attitude.

Y Camp Registrations Heavy As Season Nears

As July 11 drew nearer today, the Camp Fred L. Rents registration board at the local Y. M. C. A. was more than 75 per cent filled with names of boys who will enjoy an outing at the picturesque Slippery Rock retreat next month.

Camp arrangements, said Physical Director Henry T. MacNicholas, who will directly supervise the camp this year, have been formulated and only the registration remains to be completed before the vacation season opens one week after the Fourth.

Upon the enrollment of the camp's capacity, set at 40 boys per week, registration will be closed.

Urging boys who expect to enroll and who haven't as yet to make application immediately, Mr. MacNicholas, predicting a greater season than ever, announced that one more week will be reserved for the late comers. The Y will make its final check on campers next week.

Organization of a new staff of counselors who will help MacNicholas administer the camp has been completed. They have made preparations for the educational work they will do.

Beautiful Camp Rents, nestled along the Slippery Rock, several miles beyond Harlansburg, is in readiness for the opening next month.

TWO GENTS LEARN ABOUT THESE U. S.

(International News Service) NEW YORK, June 23.—A couple of Moroccan gentlemen hailed Arthur Kurth, a cab driver at Broadway and 45th street, the other day.

"Chicago and don't go by way of Texas," Kurth called his wife, told her he wouldn't be home for a couple of breakfasts and the trip began.

The Moroccans—El Fellahi and Hadj Ahmed, stepped down from the cab at the World's Fair grounds and told the driver to wait. But first he got his money—$150. After looking the sights over, the pair decided to come home this time warning the driver not to go by way of Toronto.

DENTAL MAGNITUDE $125,000 TOOTH

(International News Service) OUT BANK, Mont.—The largest—and probably the most expensive—dental job in history was recently completed by drillers on an oil well in the Out Bank field. After spending $125,000 drilling a well down to the 3,930-foot level, drillers found the tooth of a varniverous dinosaur, which they removed.

Discovery of the tooth led to abandonment of the well, as geologists declared that its presence meant that no oil would be found beneath it.

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore.—One of the rarest photographs known to ornithologists was secured here by Ralph Vincent, newspaper photographer, when he succeeded in taking a "portrait" closeup of a humming bird perched on her tiny nest.

The picture was made possible when the birds made their nest in a dogwood tree near a second-story window of Dr. Eugene W. Rockey's home. Because of a humming bird's great timidity, photographs of them on their nest are difficult to take and very rare.

FIRE LOSS HEAVY HARRISBURG, June 23.—In one year's time, reports of the Bureau of Fire Protection, Pennsylvania State Police, show 11,401 dwelling houses were damaged or destroyed by fire in Pennsylvania, exclusive of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. These fires entailed a loss of $4,728,792.

More than four-fifths of the causes of these fire losses were of a preventable nature, it is claimed.

Bees Stage Lively Time For Villagers

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 23.—The good citizenry of nearby Port Griffith were pained when a swarm of bees made its abode in a favorite cherry tree of Henry Cohan and decided to cut capers, keeping residents at bay for twenty-four hours.

All was well until Jim Mulrooney, who professes intimacy with his beeship, shook the tree to formally launch the battle.

Towels, bed sheets and every known bee "subduer" were brought into play, but to no avail. The presence of their would-be exterminators only served to spur the buzzing horde into inflicting more of the conventional "bumps" on any uncovered head.

The bees were conceded the edge until a staid head suggested securing the services of a bee expert. The "expert," armed with a mesh and other paraphernalia, arrived and bagged the insects in short order to restore the community's peace and tranquility.

HEART DEATHS INCREASE

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Deaths from heart ailments continue consistently to rise in Pennsylvania, as they are doing in all other sections of the United States, according to the latest figures of the State Department of Health. Approximately 500 more deaths were attributed to this cause in the first eleven months of 1932 than in the corresponding of 1931.

Want State To Pay Township Bonds

County Commissioners have received a letter from the county commissioners of Armstrong county in which it is stated that Brady township, in that county, issued bonds and built for miles of road on a highway taken over by the state.

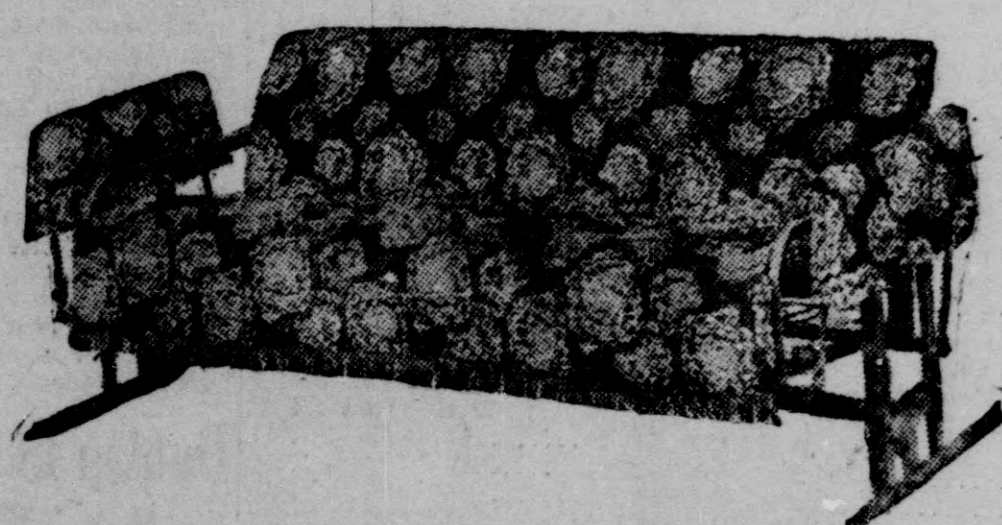

The commissioners now want the state highway to assume payment of the bonds, and ask if there is any similar case in Lawrence county.

Commissioner P. O. Elder says that there are no townships in this county that have issued bonds to improve a state highway.

Golf League Race Finds Five Teams Fighting For Lead

Gersons Displaced As Blair Strip Steel And East Siders Forge Ahead

With five teams setting a furious pace in the New Castle Golf League, the race has developed into a pretty one and interest is now at a fever heat.

Shenango Tin, which has been coming along strong during the past few weeks, knocked Gersons from the lead last night, as East Side Service managed to nose out the Pennsylvania Power team, while Blair Strip Steel jumped into a tie for first place with the East Siders by defeating Pennsylvania R. R. five out of six matches.

The news golfers, aided by the non-appearance of two Legion of Honor players, climbed into sixth place when they won five out of six matches.

The feature match next week finds Gersons and East Side S. S. paired up at Castle Hills, while Blair Strip should have things fairly easy with Pennsylvania Power at the Munny course. Shenango Tin meets the faltering Legion of Honor gang at Castle Hills.

The standing follows:
Club	W. L. Pct.
Blair Strip Steel	22 7 .760
East Side S. S.	22 7 .760

Pirates Enjoy Losing Streak

Brooklyn Adds To Miseries Of Pirates By 9 To 0 Setback

(International News Service)
 BROOKLYN, June 23.—Like bananas, Pirate verdicts, win or lose, come in bunches.

Only three days ago, the freebooters were enjoying a winning streak. Today they are struggling to end a string of losses which has thus far reached three in number. Since they relinquished the league leadership, it has been characteristic of Pittsburgh to win or lose in quantitative fashion.

Unable to solve the slants of Ray Benge, the Bucs were let down with four hits. The final score was 9 to 0 in favor of Brooklyn.

The offerings of Heine Meine, whom Manager Gibson started, were smashed to all corners of the park with discouraging regularity. He was replaced in the fourth by Waite Hoyt after he had permitted three pairs of runs to come in over four frames. Lean Chagnon finished the game.

One extra base blow, a double by Vaughn, was all the Pirates could get from Benge. Pittsburgh never threatened the Dodger lead.

The Dodgers also ran wild on the base paths, stealing six times on Catcher Padden.

American Golfer Has Fine Chance To Bring Title Back Home

 HOYLAKE, Eng., June 23.—Presaging a title victory for the United States, George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, swept into the semi-finals of the British amateur golf championship today by eclipsing R. H. Hardman, former Lancashire champion, 5 and 4.

Refusing to be unnerved by the large and curious crowd which followed the match, the former American intercollegiate champion triumphed over bad breaks and an awkward wind in severely trouncing the British player.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Central Press Association

DON'T JUDGE THE SHOT UNTIL YOU GET TO YOUR BALL

Don't judge the shot until you get to your ball.

ALEX. MORRISON says: Many times you've selected the wrong club or misjudged the length of a shot because you tried to size up the distance long before you reached your ball.

Until you come to a position where you can stand right over your ball and sight the line to the hole as well as gauge the yardage, you should not worry about these items.

Furthermore, early anticipation of a shot invariably leads to worry of its outcome.

For your peace of mind as well as better judgment, don't even take the club you expect to use until within a few feet of your ball.

All good players do this for the reasons I've just explained.

Sharkey Confident Of Beating Carnera

By DAVIS J. WALSH
 International News Service Sports Editor

ORANBURG, N. Y., June 23.—With refreshing originality, Jack Sharkey, the heavyweight champion, announced today that, scurrilous and misleading accounts to the contrary, he is not ready for the elite laundry—flat work a specialty. He was bad (Mr. Sharkey talking) with Walker and Carnera, Yes. He was terrible (Mr. Sharkey again) with Schmeling. So two years later (still Mr. Sharkey) he's bound to be just splendid when he makes his title defense against Carnera on Thursday night next.

The noble Sharkey aired these striking views just after climbing out of the training ring where admittedly he looked the part of pretty good prize fighter.

"Why not?" he said, almost indifferently. "Only circumstances made me look bad before. I left my fight seven days back for Schmeling last year. The year before that, I didn't train for Carnera. Why? Because I didn't think I was going through with the fight until the day before it was held."

"Walker? Easy. I thought he was a soft touch and he fooled me." So the noble Sharkey has this all straight in his mind and wishes that one and all would set about doing the same with theirs. He wasn't through with the Schmeling fight last year. (He didn't work too hard for this; he worked too long). He won't be through with this fight next week. (He'd like to take "that Baer" in September). He weighs 203, six days out from his fight, as against the 205 he weighed for Schmeling on the official scales. He's perfect now. He's going to stay that way.

Better Than Ever
 Meantime, Mr. John Buckley, the oval manager, stood by nodding both chins very gravely and as the harangue ceased, he added the inevitable bon mot about his man being better than ever.

Some day I hope to encounter a manager who doesn't think his man is better than ever and a fighter who doesn't talk about the fight he is going to make after the fight he is making next week. They'll be a pair to tie to, because not only will they realize the comparative unimportance of kidding a sports writer but they'll have the great good sense not to kid themselves.

The funny thing is that, as far as the eye can reach, Sharkey looks almost as good this time as he says he is.

Canzoneri And Ross Awaiting Gong Tonight

Lightweight Championship At Stake Tonight In Bout In Chicago Ring

CHICAGO BOY IS QUOTED AS EVEN

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN
 International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 23.—Tony Canzoneri, recognized as the greatest fighting man in the world, and Barney Ross, 22-year-old challenger, will meet in a thrilling 10-round fight tonight at the Chicago Stadium with the lightweight championship at stake.

The challenger, a rosy-cheeked youth, calmly awaits the verdict that may take him to the pinnacle of a division in the prize fight industry that has been something of a credit to the business. A significant commentary on the outcome of the scuffle is that Ross, though he is comparatively untied, is quoted at even money to whip the titleholder.

Most of the Canzoneri backers who were emphatically forecasting a victory for the Italian today are viewing the match with dark foreboding.

Ross Confident
 Supremely confident and utterly colorless in the fascination of bashing people for dollars, Ross is meeting the fearsome spectacle of a championship battle with an easy propriety, no more unnerved than a merchant who is about to sell a suit of clothes.

In his earlier youth Ross loved to fight to the raucous guttural of the neighborhood guys in the junk-strewn backyard of the Rosefsky homestead. Today he loves to make money.

Ross is a cunning fighter, with a sharp, stinging left hand, the stamina of youth and a tried and proven ability to absorb a measure of punishment. He is exceptionally quick with his hands and his marksmanship is unerring.

Vines Says That Jack Crawford Is Best In World

American Tennis Star Claims Australian Player Is Hardest To Beat

(International News Service)
 LONDON, June 23.—Ellsworth Vines, American tennis champion, today paid high tribute to Jack Crawford, ambidextrous Australian net ace, as the best tennis player in the world.

Commenting on the statement of Berton S. Prentice, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team, who yesterday termed the Australian Davis Cup star the world's best tennis player, Vines said: "From my record this year, I too would say that Crawford is the best player in the world."

"I had plenty of opportunity to judge his play, especially while touring Australia, when he won two matches and I won three. But I think he has improved beyond everyone since then."

"Nevertheless, I am optimistic enough to hope things will work out so that I shall have a chance to play him at Wimbledon."

Carnera Tramps Through Forest

(International News Service)
 POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 23.—Primo Carnera, 264 pounds on the scale, became a carefree woodland sprite today, pushing his big violin cases thru sylvan dells in search of rest and solitude.

The handlers training the Italian man-mountain for his title fight with Jack Sharkey next Thursday night decided it would do Primo good, besides helping him, to "get away from it all" for a day.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world, will risk his title tonight against a dangerous opponent, Barney Ross. They will box in the stadium at Chicago. The bout is scheduled to go 10 rounds.

Research committee named by ex-President Hoover in the section on recreation and leisure time shows that in 1910 there were only 24 public golf courses in the country. There were 543 in 1931. There were 743 private and public courses in 1916. By 1931 this number had leaped to 5,856.

Thomas S. Jamison, Jr., turned in a 73 and took medalist honors in the Westmoreland county amateur golf tournament at Greensburg.

The amazing Boston Red Sox downed Detroit, 9 to 7, for their ninth win in 13 games. Roy Johnson's triple with two on base in the tenth broke up the game.

Connie Mack's Athletics knocked Oral Hildebrand ace of the Cleveland mound staff, out of the box in the fifth inning and went on to overwhelm the Indians 11 to 6. Cain and Grove hurled for the A's.

LEGAL DEATH IS AGAIN DEBATED

American Institute Of Homeopaths Discuss Matter Of Legal Death By Doctors

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 23.—Arguments for and against giving physicians the legal right to dispose of incurable patients and incapacitated infants were heard in debate by the American Institute of Homeopaths at its final session here.

Speaking in favor of "euthanasia" or medico-legal death, Dr. W. A. Guild of Chicago suggested a special court of humanitarians who would hear and grant pleas from those who desired to die.

Dr. Alonzo C. Tenney contended that legalizing "euthanasia" would be abused. He added: "Too many possibilities would then exist for heirs to fortunes to manipulate such a death."

Fire Eater Shows Police Tricks And Is Given Liberty

(International News Service)
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 23.—His ability to eat fire won young Dan Ballenzano his freedom from the city jail here.

Dan, whose home is in Lock Haven, came to Williamsport to show a few tricks to the persons attending the West Branch exposition here. When he was found asleep at three a. m. on the back porch of a Williamsport home, police locked him up.

When police appeared to doubt his proficiency at eating fire, Dan offered to demonstrate. Beginning with a couple of matches, he breathed flames long enough to light a rag ball that he held on the end of a stick, all the while smacking his lips with all the zest of a starving man attacking beefsteak.

The police applauded and showed him out the front door.

TO HOLD DOWN COST OF BREATH SMELLING
(International News Service)
BUTLER, Pa., June 23.—The June grand jury, in making its report to Judge Thomas W. Watson, recommended that the fee for physicians called to examine suspects for intoxication be held at $5 for each case. Fees for this service are being investigated for the court after Zeno F. Henninger, attorney for the county commissioners, objected to the costs in cases involving drunken driving charges. The inquiry shows that some doctors have presented bills as high as $15 for "smelling" breath and making other tests of intoxication.

Stock Market
Is Firmer Today

Little Change In Prices During Transactions Of Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 23.—The stock market firmed up today after yesterday's unexpected break, aided by a fresh decline in the dollar and the bullish tone of the week-end trade reviews.

The official denial that France would abandon the gold standard, the influence behind yesterday's shakeout, brought a bulge at the opening with leaders scoring gains running to more than 2 points.

This met a further rush of profit-taking with a lower opening in grains bringing some unsettlement. The market, however, met a better brand of support and issues like steel common, Chrysler, General Motors and N. Y. Central displayed stubbornness around yesterday's closing levels.

Commodities presented a mixed picture with strength in cotton offsetting the reaction in wheat. Bonds were irregularly higher.

The market's resistance to the secondary selling in the first hour brought further rallying attempts with Chrysler prominent on the upside. This failed to carry through and the list quitted down.

Tobacco put up another strong performance, aided by the record-breaking upturn in the industry's production last month. Steels were stronger but utilities were inclined to lag.

The rally was aided by the prediction that tomorrow's traffic report would show a gain of 25,000 cars over the week before, putting the total to a new high for the year. Southern Pacific continued in persistent demand.

Chrysler's strength lifted the whole automobile list.

Leaders like American Can, Allied Chemical and American Telephone were firmer and showed support on dips. Farm stocks ignored the reaction in grains.

HENRIETTA BINGHAM ALEXANDRA BACON

These American beauties aren't superstitious. They were pleased to be among the 13 chosen to be presented at the fifth British court of the season. They spent considerable sums with British dressmakers for court costumes, devoted days to learning to curtsy in the regal manner, and waited in line in their cars for hours outside Buckingham Palace (as shown in center) to be admitted to the royal presence. Miss Robbins is daughter of the minister to Canada, Miss Bacon is the child of Rep. R. L. Bacon, of N. Y., Miss Bingham is daughter of the ambassador to London, and Mrs. Wells is the wife of the noted newspaper correspondent, now in Russia.

Back In Deciding Game
Here Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, June 23.—The B. V. M. baseball team jumped to first place in the church league standing by virtue of their 5-1 victory over Community in a deciding game at Lincoln field Thursday evening. This is Community's first loss in seven starts.

The losers got an early start by scoring a run in the first inning while holding their opponents scoreless. This proved to be their only score of the game. Such a defeat is attributed to their loss of spirit and hope after the third inning, in which time the B. V. M.'s had scored three runs.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

That was a nice party they held up in the Cathedral last night. One of the nicest high school reunions they ever had since the present reunion idea was revived in 1919 by Marion S. Woods. It was one of those parties where you know you're going to feel tired the next morning and don't care a whoop.

Folks away from New Castle are really getting the idea now that coming back home for the reunion will mean seeing a lot of folks they haven't seen for a long time, and the four points of the compass seemed to be represented there last night.

John Holland was back for the first time in many years. He is one of a group of musicians that have been turned out of New Castle high school that made music their life's work and his success has been the kind that was well deserved. Years ago he accompanied the Apollo club, which may mean nothing at all to you, but to one of the old Apollo members is something to remember with satisfaction.

Loy Allison was there also. Allison is a lad who went over to Akron and made good in a big way. He is in charge of research work for Firestone which means that he gets familiar with rubber in his day's work.

Met a lot of folks that had almost passed out of memory's realm last night and one of them gave me a cheery hello for Dexter and Daphne, the talking toads, and wondered why they weren't there. The answer is that they keep better hours than some people, and while the gang up at the reunion was hot-footing around the dance floor, D. & D. were home under a stone, sleeping.

In the cornerstone of the new post office there will be placed a lot of interesting data. Copies of The News, names of important people, coins (brother, can you spare a dime), and odds and ends of this and that. May we suggest that one of the postoffice pens be included in the list of relics that are to be put in?

Some day some postmaster general will carve himself a niche in the nation's history that time will never efface, by just developing a pen that can be used for writing purposes. Most of them in every postoffice in the country could be used for a spade, or a rake, or a curry comb for horses, but hardly for writing.

Those pamphlets sent out by the Castleton hotel have clicked over the country. Tom Boyle has had so many requests for them that he will probably have to get another lot of them struck off. The most recent request was for enough of them to serve all branches of the Chicago Motor club.

This club covers the state of Illinois, and apparently they want their members to know that New Castle, Pa., is a good place to spend the night or a lifetime.

For that matter, France would favor less armament if she had Canada and Mexico as neighbors.

Sacred Concert Is Planned For Sunday Evening

Miss Ann Thomas To Be In Charge Of Program At Emmanuel Baptist Church

(By WILLIAM A. JOHNS)

Brython Emmanuel Baptist church members and friends will hear one of the best musical programs of the year next Sunday evening, June 25, when Miss Ann Thomas, of Delaware avenue, and her company will give their services to a sacred concert at 7:30.

Miss Thomas has on the program some of the most talented musicians of New Castle. She is herself a wonderful piano player and it is always a treat to any audience to hear her.

The members of the Star of Wales lodge No. 60 True Iovites of America, will meet at the lodge room Saturday evening, June 24, when David Mort will receive the third degree of the order. Time of the meeting will be 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Williams, of Morgantown, W. Va., have returned home after attending the funeral of Mrs. Evan Lewis, Waldo street. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Lewis are sisters.

Llewellyn Thomas, of South Mercer street, while visiting at Pittsburgh enjoyed the morning service on Sunday at the Old Chatham Street Baptist church and heard Griffith Thomas, Park avenue, delivering a Welsh sermon with power and effect. Llewellyn Thomas was called to open the service by Scripture reading and prayer.

We understand that Mrs. David W. Williams is back again after spending a wonderful time among her friends in California, such as Thomas Edwards, Pico, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Griffith David and others at Riverside, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Price.

Word has arrived from Mrs. Carl Wallace, the wife of the city policeman, saying that she and her son, Llewellyn, are having the time of their lives with two suits of Mrs. Wallace, Mrs. William C. Price and Mrs. Hastings, and friends in Los Angeles. They will spend three months there.

William Phillips, of East Reynolds street, is spending a few weeks with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips, of Butler.

Girl Scout Camp Staff Selection Is Now Complete

Emily Parker To Be In Charge Of Swimming, Matilda Sobeske, Camp Nurse

With the selection of Miss Emily Parker for swimming instructor and Miss Matilda Sobeske as camp nurse the counsellor's staff for the New Castle Girl Scout camp is complete.

Miss Parker was one of New Castle's first first-class Girl Scouts and it is gratifying to the camp committee to have such an experienced counsellor on the staff. Miss Sobeske has been just graduated from the Jameson Memorial hospital's School of Nursing and comes to the camp highly recommended.

Girl Scout camp will open on August 15 and continue on until August 15. There will be about 100 girls there each week, half the number of which will be Sharon Girl Scouts.

Since the accommodations are limited, local Girl Scouts are being urged to get their registration blanks filled out and submitted just as soon as possible. Positively no registrations will be accepted after July 15.

Registrations should be made with troop captains or with Mrs. W. H. Hanger, chairman of the camp committee. The girls are privileged to indicate on the card the scout friend with whom she would like to "bunk."

Only one vacancy remains in the Pioneer Unit, a group of girls of 15 years of age and second class scouts. An older group, the Gypsy Unit, shall be composed of girls who have their pioneer and cook badges.

Visitors will be allowed at camp on Sundays, during which day there will be no regular program. Catholic girls will be brought to New Castle for church; others will be taken to nearest church if they so desire. "Scout's Own" an undenominational service, will be conducted each Sunday evening.

Hold McCloskey For Grand Jury

Johnstown Mayor Will Answer To Grand Jury For Punishing Poor Director

(International News Service) JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 23.—Ed die McCloskey, red-headed fighting chief executive of Johnstown, today was held for grand jury action on a charge of having punched Leon Bennett, poor director, on the jaw during a demonstration at Cambria county relief headquarters.

McCloskey denied the charge when arraigned before Alderman J. A. Reese. He also pleaded not guilty to charges of riot and inciting to riot. All three charges are after-maths of the demonstration.

The fighting mayor acted as his own attorney during the two-hour hearing.

Following the alderman's hearing, McCloskey furnished $2,500 bond and was released pending grand jury action.

Church Art Windows Tell Real Life Story

(International News Service) LEWISTOWN, Pa., June 24.—Installation of a new pipe organ in the First Methodist church here made necessary the removal of two memorial windows, each of which carries an interesting local story. One of the windows is dedicated to, and bears the likeness of "Mother" Stoner, one of the early Methodists of Lewistown. The other window pictures Bishop Wiley whom "Mother" Stoner picked up along the street and took to Sunday school. He advanced to the ministry and finally to the highest office in the gift of the church. It was decided to transfer the two pictures to places in the transoms above the two main entrances of the church auditorium.
